MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgage. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which ti was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be reorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Mony Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage is drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

May 28, 29, June 1, 2 and 3.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

"Entered at the Post Office at New York, N. Y., as second-class matter."

Vol. LXXI. JUNE 13, 1903. No. 1839.

THIS week has witnessed the culmination of a six weeks' stock panic. The impartial observer must see that the result was out of all proportion to the causes that in the beginning manipulated and depressed prices. We have simply witnessed again what has been so often demonstrated in the history of Wall Street, that the first step is really all that is needed to "count," for after that there is always a big following that blindly appropriates the original force of any movement and continues it in obedience, we suppose, to the working of what Le Bon terms the "psychology of the crowd." Brokers, bankers, correspondents, all alike have been busy of late extending and supporting the "original force" of the initial attack on prices. And this in face of the fact that there is little wrong with the country except its cooking! The crop outlook is excellent, in some respects even without parallel, and a greater number of immigrants are landing weekly on our shores than the host that marched in the great Sound Money parade. This freight, dead and alive, has to be cared for and moved, and whatever may happen to industrials it is difficult to figure by the ordinary arithmetic how the railroads are to suffer or the securities that represent them. The more conservative, and certainly the keener sighted, perceive that there is no warrant in the situation for the recent slump, and the recovery of the market from five to ten points is the evidence of the fact.

AFTER an examination of the plans for the New York Central's terminal Mayor Low is reported to have said to Vice-President Wilgus: "I hesitate to predict how wonderful will be the changes made in New York during the next fifty years. Your comprehensive scheme is proof of the thought I have had for some time that the changes which are to come about within a comparatively short time will entirely alter the complexion of the city." By the changes which are to come about within a comparatively short time Mayor Low undoubtedly means the changes which will be produced by such improvements which the New York Central and the Pennsylvania Railroad companies are now about to make, and by the new bridges, the new tunnels, and the whole vast and comprehensive new transit system of the Greater New York. The effect of these great public works will be threefold. In the first place they will directly and indirectly cause a great and steady demand for labor throughout the whole of the city, and will thereby stimulate local demand for property and provide work for a largely increasing population. In the second place they will, one and all, take possession of considerable areas hitherto given over to tenements and dwellings and occupy the space for various other purposes arising immediately out of the necessities of these improvements. Finally, they will all of them help to increase the industrial efficiency of the greater city, and to centralize certain kinds of business and pleasure seeking in Manhattan. It might seem as if all this additional train service would serve merely to take people out of Manhattan and to give them opportunities to live more cheaply elsewhere; but the same tracks which take people away for some purpose will bring them back for other purposes. In the expansion and a differentiation of metropolitan life Manhattan will gain quite as much as the other boroughs. Indeed, it will gain more, for every inhabitant of the other boroughs will have to do business in Manhattan, or pay tribute to its shops, theatres, restaurants and hotels. The pressure upon the restricted space of the island will become constantly greater instead of less; more and more street room will be added to circulatory system of the borough; the necessity of building taller and larger will become greater with every successive year. The opportunities thereby offered to the shrewd and well-to-do building and real estate operator are palpable, and will be continuous. It is this prospect which leads one to anticipate many years of comparative prosperity for the New York building and real estate interests. No matter how general business wakes or wanes, the process of improvement and readjustment will continue until the apparently considerable transformations of the past few years will be dwarfed.

THE persistence of certain influences in the life of a great city is remarkable. New York, for instance, has for the past two hundred years been more composite in the blood of its residents than has any other of the great cities of the country. Even during Colonial times, when its population was smaller than that either of Philadelphia or Boston, it was derived from more various sources, for an English and a French protestant infusion had been added to the original Dutch basis. After the beginning of our national life, as soon as the foreign immigration assumed formidable proportions, New York was always the chief port of entry, and always retained a certain considerable proportion of these immigrants. About 25 per cent. of its population are either German-born or of German parentage; about 21 per cent. Irish-born or of Irish parentage; about 12 per cent. Russian-born or of Russian parentage, and about 11 per cent. Italian-born or of Italian parentage. Only about one-fifth of the population of the city is native-born and of native parentage, and of these about one-seventh comes from States other than New York. It should be added that almost half of this foreign population has been born in this country, and that a fair proportion of these may be considered to be pretty well Americanized. Unless all signs are mistaken, however, the percentage of foreign people is likely to increase rather than diminish. The number of arrivals during the present year promise to reach 800,000, the largest in the history of the country, and the persecution of the Jews in Russia will serve to increase still further the immigration from that source. The local demand for labor is such that an unusually large proportion of these new-comers remain in New York; so that we may expect that the State census of 1895 will show an even smaller proportion of native-born and bred whites than did the national census of 1900. In view of the fact that this immigration is so large and promises to be still larger, it is extraordinary that the demand for some restriction does not become more insistent; but we believe that the ill-success which has hitherto attended proposed restrictive measures is due to the conviction that the economic development of the country is not in a position to dispense with the labor which it derives from abroad. Moreover, while certain serious evils undoubtedly attend this flood of immigration, there are not as yet any signs that the assimilative powers either of New York City or the whole country are becoming exhausted. The Jews which have come within the past fifteen years are becoming as wholesomely Americanized as the Irish and Germans, who preceded them.

THE decision of the Interborough company to enlarge a number of its stations on the Sixth and Ninth Avenue lines will be a great relief to passengers on the West Side, particularly to those who use the express trains. The Barclay, Cortlandt and Rector Street stations of the Ninth Avenue line have long been not merely a discomfort to people who boarded north-bound trains between 5.15 and 6.30 in the evening, but a positive danger. The Barclay Street station particularly would be a disgrace to a small suburban railroad. The platform is entirely inadequate to accommodate the passengers who take the trains during the evening rush hours; there is no waiting room, and practically no protection against inclement weather. It is to be hoped that the improvements on these three stations will be begun immediately and that they will be completed so as to accommodate the great pressure of traffic which occurs during the few weeks which immediately precede Christmas. The present arrangements at 116th and 125th streets are also very inconvenient, and the new elevators and esculators, which it is proposed to erect at these points and at 33d Street, will be a great convenience to the public as well as a source of additional income to the company. It is an extremely suggestive fact that in 1902 some 5,000,000 passengers boarded the trains at 116th Street, and that this was an increase of 25 per cent. over the year before. The great increase of traffic was not due to the larger amount of living accommodations which was opened up during that year; it was due chiefly to the fact that the great region of flats and apartment houses served by the 116th Street station was more fully rented than ever before. Although those flats and apartment houses are even more fully rented now than they were in 1902, a corresponding increase will not take place during the current year, because the new 110th Street station, which has recently been opened, will relieve the pressure on the 116th Street station. In making these improvements the Interborough company is only fulfiling its plainest obligations towards its passengers; but the disposition even to fulfil obligations is such a startling departure from the policy of the company under its previous management that the patrons of the elevated roads will heave a sigh of relief and look toward the dawning of a better day. It is true that the time is not yet in sight when the inhabitant of Manhattan and the Bronx can anticipate the luxury of traveling to and from his business in a car that is not crowded, that prospective luxury being reserved for the more fortunate inhabitants of the other boroughs; but it seems as if under the new order that the least tolerable dangers and discomforts of his situation would be alleviated within the next year or two.

Real Estate Situation.

Real Estate and General Business.

We have received a number of inquiries as to the effect which the readjustment of general business conditions now taking place is likely to have upon the local real estate market. Of course, such questions cannot very well be answered until it has become more plainly apparent how far the readjustment is going, and whether the recent liquidation in the stock market has been due to temporary financial conditions or whether it is really an anticipation of a period of depression. So far as can be seen at the present time, however, we should say that the effect of this alteration of business conditions would be to change the character of the real estate trading without diminishing its amount.

During the years 1901 and 1902 the strongest demand for real estate in Manhattan came from rich men and big corporations. The big companies that were being organized needed office room in New York, and so filled up the existing buildings that an unprecedented number of "skyscrapers" were erected. At the same time the rich men who had recently become richer began to buy new and bigger residences in the fashionable district, thereby greatly increasing values in that neighborhood; and the largely increasing number of well-to-do but comparatively unstable people, who came to live in the city, had much to do with the important movement in the construction of apartment hotels. But new companies are no longer being organized on the scale of two years ago; rich men instead of becoming richer have of late distinctly become poorer, and there is a considerable diminution in the number of apartment hotels erected. In all these respects the real estate seasons of 1903-4 will be less active than the real estate seasons of 1901-1902. It is the small man who is coming to have a chance. Tenements are being erected at a largely increasing rate; apartment houses are being planned in very considerable numbers; the smaller business man is increasing his factory or loft space; and we anticipate that in a year or so there will be a revival of the building of the small residence, both in Manhattan and the Bronx. At the same time an immense amount of private business will result directly from the public improvements now under way. Moreover, we believe the strength of the local position to be such that a diminution in general prosperity and activity would indirectly stimulate building in New York. A large amount of new construction is undoubtedly being held up until the price of building materials becomes more normal; and a decrease in the prices of building materials would be one of the first effects of a slackening of general trade.

ALL the incidents of the labor crisis during the past week have been favorable to the employers. The secession of the expert trades from the Board of Building Trades was a move even more favorable to their interests than would have been the abandonment of the teamsters by the Board without being accompanied by any secession. The organization of a new board by the skilled trades may in the end help to bring about a situation which will make for comparatively permanent labor conditions in the building trades of New York. The employers need some arrangement with their employees which (1) will give some assurance that agreements will be fulfilled, which (2) will provide for the full discussion of all disputes before a strike or a lockout is ordered, and which (3) will secure to the employers in advance a guarantee that the game is being played fair. How such an arrangement will eventually be consummated is still uncertain; but the events of the past week have brought it appreciably nearer, because it is always easier to negotiate and to reach some reasonable understanding with a set of skilled laborers, who are sure of their position, than it is with comparatively ignorant unskilled laborers. The Employers' Association are to be congratulated upon the results already obtained. They have succeeded in recovering some of the ground lost in the past, and in putting up a fight for their rights without irretrievably embittering their relations with the fair-minded among their employes. The fight is not yet over, and, indeed, must be continuous in order to be effective, but persistence in the same policy should continue to bring about favorable results. The revelations as to blackmail, which have recently been published, while they will not surprise anybody familiar with trade conditions, is also distinctly and considerably favorable to the employers' cause. It is the plain public and trade duty of everybody who has been obliged to submit to such extortions to assist the District Attorney in his present investigations, so that the system of blackmail can be permanently uprooted.

The Labor Situation.

Astounding revelations have characterized the week in the building trades, astounding for the public, if not to the builders and employers, who have been compelled to submit to the criminal extortion which at last has been exposed through the arrests of certain walking delegates. If anything were needed to complete the disaster that has fallen upon the administration of organized labor this disgrace has inflicted the least measure of retribution. The week has been big with important transactions, aside from those in which the officers of the law figured. The refusal of the Material Handlers' and Material Drivers' unions to withdraw from the United Board of Building Trades was followed on Monday by the act of secession on the part of sixteen unions, representing the skilled labor element, who at once concluded a treaty with the Association of Dealers in Masons' Building Materials and the Lumber Dealers' Association.

This was followed on Wednesday by the opening of the lumber yards, and on Friday by the resumption of business on the part of the dealers in masons' materials. Brick, cement, plaster and other supplies for builders are being hurried to town, but the end of the matter is not yet. The storm is breaking, but the field is not yet ready for the workers. Rarely does a strike break off clean; usually there are rough edges and after considerations, as now. The builders, as represented in the Employers' Association, have matters to settle ere mechanical operations can be fully resumed, and they now control the situation to a very large degree. The Dealers have unlocked the door, but it is for the Builders to open it.

A CONGRESS OF MECHANICS.

The sixteen unions which seceded from the United Board of Building Trades on Monday and have since formed the United Board of Building Mechanics by representation through their business agents, consisted of the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners, the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, plain and ornamental plasterers, plumbers and gas fitters, electrical workers, marble cutters, mosaic and encaustic tile layers and helpers, steam and hot water fitters, steam fitters' helpers, granite cutters, derrick men, riggers and pointers, journeymen stone cutters, Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators, elevator constructors and slate and tile roofers, representing in all a constituency of nearly 30,000 workmen. The agreement which these unions made with the dealers in building materials provides that they will accept supplies, no matter by whom handled or delivered. This involves a victory for the employers, and justifies entirely the position taken by them in refusing to accede to the demand of the Drivers' Union that no material should be used in building construction, except that delivered by members of the union.

In a formal statement the Dealers' associations said that the treaty showed "that these unions, as well as the public, have grasped the fact that there is no point of contact between the material dealers and the skilled trades. Between them comes the contractor or builder and the owner. They, on the other hand, buy the material, and on the other hand, employ the skilled workmen. This being the case there is certainly no reason in fact for conflict between material dealers and labor unions of skilled workmen. Lumber and material dealers have all along insisted on a clear understanding of these conditions. The higher skilled trades have recently come to realize these conditions, and now also insist on a like understanding of them."

The position of the representatives of the sixteen skilled labor unions was stated as follows: "In reporting to the United Board the committee made a recommendation which was overruled by the laborers and unskilled men of that body. The mechanics of that body, therefore, saw fit to withdraw from the United Board of Building Trades and formed a new organization composed entirely of mechanics." The agreement continues as follows:

"The committee hereby bind these organizations that they will not interfere with the free use of any supplies delivered by any members of said dealers' associations, no matter under what conditions, or by whom, they might be made, handled or delivered, and will not take any part in any trouble originating with the material drivers or material handlers or any other unskilled labor.

"And they further agree, that in the new association of the above-named bodies of mechanics the new body will be bound by the action of this committee, and any new membership that may be allowed to join their association shall also be bound by this action. This, however, is done in consideration of the supply dealers agreeing to open their places of business for the delivery of material not later than Friday, June 12, 1903."

The tieup was also declared off in Brooklyn, as the dealers of that borough had followed in the steps of those in Manhattan throughout the campaign to their resulting benefit. That the Builders have not opened the door to their employers is not owing to any discord between them and the Dealers. The two divisions have been kept separate by the nature of the principles for which they contend. In another part of this paper will be found a statement of the principles of the Employers' Association, as contained in letters to the unions and to their employees individually. As for the mechanics themselves, they are ready to go to work, ignoring all the unskilled unions, if necessary.

The Plain and Ornamental Plasterers' Union held a special meeting on Tuesday night in Brevoort Hall, 54th st, near 3d av, to discuss the situation. Over 2,000 plasterers attended. It was decided unanimously amid applause to give the hod carriers until next Monday to go to work under the conditions existing before the shutdown took place. If they fail to do so the plasterers say they will work with any laborer assigned to them, union or non-union.

John J. Donovan, delegate of the plasterers, as well as President of the Board of Building Trades, says: "We will never again have unskilled unions in the board. The reconstructed organization will have nothing to do with them. We do not propose ever again to be caught in the predicament we were forced into by indorsing the demands of the Building Material Drivers' Union. As to the skilled trades not already with us, we only want the engineers and the housesmiths and bridgemen. The engineers, I believe, will come to our side, anyway."

ATTITUDE OF THE EMPLOYERS.

As soon as the Builders can logically do so we are assured that they will take advantage of the open yards. Opposed as they are to according further recognition to the walking delegate and the corrupt practices which by common report and legal allegations have been associated with him, they are seeking some other permanent medium of communication and understanding with organized labor. With that object in view negotiations have been going on between a committee of the employers and the presidents of the unions, and when an agreement that will eliminate the delegate has been found, definite treaties for definite periods will next be asked for.

BRICKLAYERS MAY STRIKE.

But complications arose on Thursday night which may change the complexion of the situation. The bricklayers under the old agreement, which has been continued since May 1st, have been receiving sixty-five cents an hour. For a new agreement they finally demanded seventy cents, and this the employers refused at the meeting of the joint committee in the Townsend Building on Thursday night. When the meeting adjourned, subject to the call of the Chair, all agreements were declared ended.

It has been the boast of the Bricklayers that they never strike, since for twenty years they have things arranged to their liking. Their unions will meet early next week to consider what is best to be done. A great many readers will be grieved to learn of this surprising insistance. As the Bricklayers have never mixed with other trades, and have no representatives in central bodies, preferring to be independent, no other trade would strike in sympathy with them; but they could hold up all brickwork, unless the employers should import workmen from other cities, which it is said they could easily do. A poor year is this for winning strikes. Clairvoyants and prophets affirm it. They read it in the cards, and in the Carpenters' shavings; they hear it in the wynds from Westchester, and can tell it by the specks in the Laborers' mortar, and the neigh, neigh of the Drivers' steeds.

As regards the main issue, the outcome of which is entirely as the employing interests would have it, the Association of Dealers in Masons' Materials can rightfully accept the honor which belongs to a successful leader. When the courage of others failed they raised aloft the banner of "No Discrimination," and were the first to close their gates, raise their drawbridges and defy the besiegers. The records show that on the 22d of last December they appointed a committee on labor to take action in any emergency that might arise, with the assurance that all the members of the association should be governed by the command of the committee, even to the closing of their yards. Threats had already been made by the outside handlers and drivers. Long before the first of May the walking delegates had stopped the use of brick under various pretexts on various jobs; and in one instance bricks that had been boycotted were not released until the builder had paid a sum of money to placate the business agents.

These interruptions to business were frequent and expensive until on May 1st, when the John P. Kane Co., Clifford L. Miller, William T. Hookey and John H. Meuller found themselves without a single driver reporting for duty, and the other dealers were more or less embarrassed by failures of at least some of their men to report. The Labor Committee came to the conclusion that the time for radical action had arrived. This committee, which was composed of John J. Bell, William K. Hammond, Daniel Darrow, William H. Barnes and Francis M. Howland, ordered that all yards be closed on Tuesday night, May 5, and after that time refuse to sell, deliver, or allow to be delivered, any material until further directions from the committee. Other building associations gave assistance and support; dealers and manufacturers in Jersey City withheld supplies, and every retail dealer in Brooklyn save two stood faithful to the principle. The Association of Brick Manufacturers at the call of the president promised and did withhold their product.

In reviewing the work of the five weeks, Mr. William K. Hammond said on Thursday: "I will say that the resolution made by the labor committee on the day that they decided to close the yards, that the only condition on which they would be reopened would be the guarantee on the part of Labor of the free and unrestricted delivery and use of materials, has been maintained, as appears from the agreement signed by the representatives of the sixteen mechanical organizations, whom it seems to me by their perception of conditions which were impossible for the United Board of Building Trades to overcome, have placed themselves in the center of the stage. They have arranged so that the building material and lumber yards are delivering supplies; they have refused to be bound by the acts of unskilled labor, and it occurs to me that by a proper understanding with their employers, who are principally represented by the Building Trades Employers' Association, they will not only be the center of the industrial revival, but will win the respect of their employers as well as producers in material, and will be a guarantee of peace in the future of building."

Since Wednesday, and especially since Friday morning there has been a considerable resumption of building. Work of some kind is going on at the Knickerbocker Trust Co., 34th st and 5th av; at Chas. M. Schwab's residence on Riverside Drive, between 73d and 74th sts; the Astor Hotel, Broadway, 44th and 45th sts; the Hotel Regis, 5th av and 55th st; all the theatre buildings and all the private residences under construction and repair on 5th av. Among the places idle are the new Custom House, new Public Library, the Belmont Hotel, 42d st and Park ave; the Knickerbocker Hotel, 42d st and Broadway; the hotel on southeast corner of 5th ave and 60th st; also the hotel on the west side of 5th av and 55th st.

The arrest of Samuel J. Parks and Richard Carvel, conspicuous walking delegates, on the charge of extortion, has exposed a corrupt state of affairs among the representatives of the unions. The hardships which employers have had to bear are now more apparent to the public, and probably only the opening chapters of a great labor scandal have been read. Parks has been arrested four times during the week, and the revelations indicate that his case is very grave.

Obituary Note.

Harold D. Keeler, of the W. S. Anderson Real Estate Company, after a lingering illness, died at his summer home at Lake Hopatcong last Saturday, and was buried at Woodlawn on Tuesday. Mr. Keeler was born in this city about 40 years ago, and was for a time in the wholesale department of Arnold & Constable. Leaving there in 1888 he became identified as a clerk with the office of Wm. S. Anderson, where he became a partner, and later organized the business into a stock company and became its president, which office he held at the time of his death. In 1898 the business moved into its present building, at No. 954 Lexington av, which was erected by the company. Mr. Keeler was a thorough real estate man and had a large circle of clients, who held him in high esteem.

—A special committee of five appointed by the President of the Board of Aldermen met on Thursday in the office of the Board of Rapid Transit Commissioners, with representatives of the Hudson and Manhattan Railroad Company, in regard to an application made by the latter for permission to construct and operate a tunnel railroad from the State line in the middle of the Hudson River, at a point nearly opposite the foot of Cortlandt st, thence by single track, under the Hudson River and Cortlandt st, to Church st; thence under Church st to Fulton st; thence under Fulton st westwardly to a point in the State line in the middle of the Hudson River, nearly opposite the foot of Fulton st, including a station under Church st, between Cortlandt and Fulton sts. The committee will report at the next meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

—Milo R. Maltbie, Assistant Secretary of the Art Commission, has been relieved from other duties during the months of July and August and has been instructed, during this time, which includes his usual vacation, to investigate and report upon matters relating to the work of the Commission, namely, municipal art, city development, civic centres, public and quasi-public buildings, noteworthy modern instances of city embellishment, including boulevards, bridges, plazas, interior and exterior decoration of public and quasi-public buildings, and matters connected therewith. He is authorized to visit the cities of Copenhagen, Stockholm, St. Petersburg, Moscow, Dresden, Berlin, Hamburg, Antwerp, Brussels, and Paris, and to purchase maps, plans and illustrated material, subject to instructions by the committee. The Commission has appropriated $150 toward his traveling expenses.

Real Estate Notes.

James O'Donnell is the buyer of 118 Wall st, sold some weeks ago. The price was $39,000.

The Fulton Street Board of Trade, Brooklyn, has appointed a committee of eight, who will appear before the Board of Estimate on July 1, and oppose the approval of the resolution providing for the widening of Livingston st.

Schmeidler & Bachrach, real estate operators, 35 Nassau st, have their new lists of property ready and will mail same on application; they would also ask brokers to submit to them any property they have for sale, and the same will be given prompt attention.

The second semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent. has been declared by the New York Mortgage and Security Co., of 149 Broadway. This company was organized only a little over a year ago by gentlemen active in the management of the Title Insurance Co., and its success has been very pronounced. The dividend is payable July 6 to stockholders.

The Realty Operating Co., of 15 Wall st, recently incorporated, took title on Tuesday to their first purchase, Nos. 133 to 137 East 16th st. On Wednesday they reconveyed the plot to the Inter-River Realty and Construction Co., who secured a building loan of $100,000 from the City Mortgage Co. James Campbell is president of the Inter-River Realty and Construction Co.

The unexpected happened in the sale of the Gilman parcel at 261 to 265 West 33d st, which was offered at auction on Tuesday. In February last the property was put up at auction, under partition, by order of the court, and after some spirited bidding it was knocked down for $108,000 to J. O. Scamman. At the time it was said that Mr. Scammel was offered $115,000 for the plot, before he left the room, and that the offer was refused. He paid the customary 10 per cent. down, but failed to pay the remainder within the allotted time, this necessitating another sale. On Tuesday the property was knocked down to Jackson & Stern, for $78,250, a difference of $29,750. Mr. Scamman made an urgent appeal to the referee to have the sale adjourned, stating that he would manage to take title.

Questions and Answers.

NO DIFFERENCE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Please let me know what commission is a broker entitled to for renting a loft or store for a fraction of a year?

Answer.—The same as on any lease.

EFFECT OF UNAUTHORIZED CHANGE IN CONTRACT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE

I signed a bond and mortgage three years ago. In the meantime I sold the property. The mortgagee having granted the new owner an extension of this mortgage, does that relieve me from the bond? Must I get my bond or am I relleved as it stands now? C. H.

Answer.—A variation of the contract without your consent releases you.—Law Editor.

ERROR IN RECORDING.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A bought a house from B and gives back a mortgage to B for part payment, which is a purchase money mortgage. It was recorded correctly in the transfer, but the mortgage is recorded as being 180 feet from the house conveyed. A wishes to know if such an error would have effect on the property. Neither A nor B own the property covered by the mortgage.

Answer.—If the deed is correctly recorded the error in the record of the mortgage does not affect the title unless one has actual knowledge of the fact; or some mention of the mortgage is made in the deed.—Law Editor.

LEASE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

When a lease is made for the term of three years from May, and the tenant has the privilege of remaining nine months longer, making in all three years and nine months, and the rent is fixed for the said nine months, is the real estate broker not entitled to 1 per cent. of the gross rental for the full three years and nine months? Parties claim it should be 1 per cent. on the three years only, and that the broker should wait for the term of three years in order to see if the tenant stayed longer. The following is an exact copy of the agreement as to the nine months:

"With the privilege to the said party of the second part to occupy the premises to the first day of March, 1907, from the expiration of said lease at the rate of —— thousand dollars per annum."

Answer.—No.—Law Editor.

ASSESSMENT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I have just received a notice of assessment on a piece of property located on 5th av near 18th st. Said assessment is made for "Elm st opening, widening and extending from City Hall place to Great Jones st, opposite Lafayette place." I fail to see the justice of taxing an owner on 5th av and 18th st for improvement which do not extend above Great Jones st and 4th av. It strikes me that there is something radically wrong with a system which produces such results and I would like to know whether you can suggest a way of protesting successfully against said assessment. With thanks in advance, M.

Answer: Generally the area of the asssessment is arbitrarily fixed by the commissioners, and unless opposition be made on or before the filing of the commissioner's report, the action of the commissioners in so fixing the area of the assessment is final.—Law Editor.

The World of Building

Material Market.

LUMBER.

An agreement having been reached with the new Mechanics' Association, all the yards in the metropolitan district opened on Wednesday. The second attempt to unionize the drivers has failed, and now by the pledge obtained from the union committee yesterday, the drivers will never be recognized by organized skilled labor. Business will be slow until building operations in general are resumed, but lumber being available, considerable jobbing will be able to proceed.

The action of the Lumber Dealers' Association in opening the yards was agreed upon at a mecting on Tuesday afternoon between its committee and a committee representing the new organization of skilled workmen, which have really had no conflict with the material dealers. The result of the meeting was that each union in the new organization sign a promise binding it not to interfere in any way in the delivery and use of supplies furnished by the material dealers. The dealers having had no controversy or trouble with their own men, are having their lumber handled and carried by their old non-union hands and their own teams, and are ignoring the union teamsters. The union carpenters stand ready to use this material under their agreement, and thus far there has been no trouble with outsiders.

"Are you prepared to meet any attempt at interference?" Vice-President J. Sherlock Davis was asked.

"We are in close touch with each yard in the association; also with the District Attorney's office and with the police. At the first move of any one to check us we will act. We mean to settle this business once and for all, and would like nothing better than to wind the whole matter up with a good stiff demonstration of the power of the law."

Under prevailing conditions there is nothing to be said in relation to the present status of the market on lumber, there being no material change in conditions beyond the lockout. In the wholesale department prices remain firm, and for the most part unchanged. Spruce is holding the center of the stage for the time being. While the supply on hand is adequate for present needs, the drought and forest fires have, manufacturers assert, caused a shortage at the mills. Secretary J. D. Crary, of the New York Lumber Trade Association, outlining the situation, said:

"The shortage of spruce will hamper builders considerably. Hemlock can be substituted for spruce in studding, but the Building Department will not permit them to substitute hemlock for spruce timbers of the same size. For flooring and the like hemlock is not available. Yellow pine might be substituted for spruce, but it is heavier and so much harder to work that carpenters hesitate about using it. Spruce is what the builders want, and spruce, from all reports, is what is going to be hard to get."

CLAY PRODUCTS.

The Association of Dealers in Masons' Building Materials did not resume business until Friday. About forty cargoes had arrived during the preceding twenty-four hours from Hudson River points. Hereafter brick will be accepted at buildings without discrimination. But until the builders get under headway again there will be little doing. Prices for common brick are quoted at $5.00 and $5.50, though there are some grades selling for $4.50.

The Haverstraw brick manufacturers are reported to be making exceptionally good brick this season. The upriver strike is over and the sheds are filling up very fast all along the river.

A space of about 20,000 sq. ft. has been set apart in the Mining Building for the clay exhibit at the St. Louis fair. The department will include: (1) Samples of clay, shales, kaolins, spar, etc., in uniform glass bottles, with lables giving location, analysis and physical properties. (2) Photographs, maps and charts showing location and extent of clay deposits, methods of winning, and transportation. (3) Photographs, samples and models of machines for washing, grinding, pugging, moulding, pressing, turning, jigging and glazing of clays, etc. (4) Photographs, models, etc., illustrating driers and kilns. (5) Samples of clay products, especially in actual use, and photographs of clay plants and clay products.

IRON AND STEEL.

With a hope of still further concessions, the recent readjustments of quotations have not appreciably stimulated buying, for in reality the quotations were nominal and had successively become ineffective before they were diminished. But as much structural and other work has been only postponed and not abandoned, a decided stiffening of the market is to be expected when labor and other difficulties which engendered timidity among capitalists have been removed. The fixing of the price schedules for the last half of the year by the Southern Furnace Association will, it is declared in the trade, result in the shutting out of foreign irons.

During the month of May the American Bridge Company sold over 101,000 tons of material, principally structural, which made that month the largest in their history. Among their recent contracts the largest have been for John Wanamaker, for 16,000 tons, to be used in his New York building, and 12,000 tons for his Philadelphia building.

CEMENT.

So far as the general trade is concerned, the cement business is suspended in this market, except where orders are being filled under special contract, as in the case of the Subway, which has a source of supply independent of local dealers. But even with New York out of it, the cement trade elsewhere throughout the country, notwithstanding building strikes at large centers, totalled up heavily, during the month of May. It was a month in which the weather was perfect for building; not an hour was lost on acount of storms; and but for the strikes here and elsewhere the volume of business in construction work might have been unprecedented. At least one company, the Lehigh, as reported by the local agent, Hiram Snyder, at 229 Broadway, shipped more than the mills had manufactured in that period. No doubt at some mills not well known material is accumulating, for prices are lower, though nominal for this center.

"But for the labor difficulties," said Mr. Snyder, "business would no doubt have exceeded anything that we ever had. Our own trade, however, has not been affected at all, except in New York. Being quiet here, we have been able to catch up with outside girders."

The Atlas Portland Cement Co., New York City, has voted to favor of increasing its capital stock from $7,500,000 to $10,000,000, and the additional capital will be used in extending its business.

The Alsen Portland Cement Co., which has headquarters at Hamburg, Germany, but has also been operating in America, has under consideration a project to erect a cement plant near Stockertown, Pennsylvania.

The German trade has been encouraged by great activity in Latin-American States with public works, including large harbor and drainage works, as well as general building. At present 95 per cent. of the cement imported comes from Hamburg. There are no cement factories in the Spanish-American countries. The French commercial agent at Lima recently suggested that a group of cement manufacturers should form a syndicate, and appoint five energetic representatives who speak Spanish and are acquainted with the customs of the countries. They should be supplied with samples, and should visit the principal Latin-American towns, with the object of obtaining Government and municipal contracts. These representatives should be apportioned as follows: (1) Mexico and Central America, Cuba and Porto Rico; (2) Venezuela, Colombia, Guiana and the Lesser Antilles; (3) Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia and Chili; (4) Argentina and Uruguay; (5) Brazil and Paraguay. This is a suggestion worthy of consideration by British manufacturers also.

LIME.

Owing to inability to effect a joint meeting of the National Builders' Supply Association, the National Lime Manufacturers' Association and the National Plaster Manufacturers' Association, the officers of the National Lime Manufacturers' Association have concluded that June 30 will be a more desirable date than August, and suit a greater number of manufacturers, who have been consulted on the subject. It is therefore announced that the annual meeting of this association will be held at Toledo beginning June 30.

Dispute About Plans.

Architects are interested in the assertion that Architect Rudolph L. Daus, of Brooklyn, whose plans are being used in the reconstruction of the Brooklyn Hall of Records, and whose percentage amounts to $40,000, made use of certain designs submitted by Frank Helmle, then of Johnson & Helmle, now Superintendent of the Bureau of Buildings. The Brooklyn Chapter of the American Institute of Architects now has a committee investigating. It is stated that certain officers under the former city administration will be asked to make expanations also.

Ann st continues as of old to be a center of carpenters, masons and other master builders. It is still the rule there to have office and shop in connection, as most of the firms are taken up with jobbing. But some firms follow the modern fashion and have only offices. Your general contractor and builder, whose attention is taken up mostly with new work, will now usually be found occupying simply a suite of offices. Somewhere in town he may have storehouse and yards, but he has no shop of the old style. His trim comes from outside the city, bought almost as one would buy lumber, and quite ready to be put in place. Fine cabinet work, however, is mostly done in New York, the local craftsmen in this line having no equals elsewhere. The principal colonies for general builders and contractors are now in the Townsend and St. James buildings, on Broadway; the Mohawk, Presbyterian and Windsor Arcade buildings, on 5th av; and at 489 4th av., though some large concerns have their offices in the downtown financial district, the Thompson-Starrett Co. being at 51 Wall and the American Bridge Co. at 100 Broadway.

Of Interest to the Building Trades.

Mr. Sam. Parks has suddenly postponed his trip to Europe.

More schools are the imperative need of the hour in Queens.

The salary of Assistant Principal Engineer of the Department of Sewers has been raised to $4,000 a year.

The old Macy store, at 14th st and 6th av, is now only a memory, the week having seen the last of it.

Jacobs & Sons, of 510 Pearl st, this city, are installing the vault lights in the India Building, Boston, Mass.

The building of the new bridge over Newtown Creek has progressed sufficiently to show its magnitude, and is approaching a stage where its daily development will be easy to see.

Andrew Rissler, architect, has opened an office in the Williamsburgh Trust Co. building, at the corner of Broadway and Myrtle av, Brooklyn, and desires catalogues from the building trades.

The John H. Mahnken Co., of Brooklyn, dealers in masons' materials, have contracted with the W. A. Underhill Brick Company, of Croton Point, to handle their entire make of the I. X. L. Brick.

South Brooklyn is at present pushing for a 15-minute boat and a 15-minute headway. The residents say that the progress of that section of the city is being retarded by unsatisfactory ferry conditions.

Commissioner Redfield, of the Brooklyn public works, announces that the contract has been awarded for the "parking" of 4th av, from Prospect av to 40th st, Brooklyn, and that the work will be done within the coming year.

The Police Commissioner has been authorized to have plans prepared for the construction of a station house for a new Thirty-sixth Police Precinct Station House on the site owned by the city at 3d av, 160th st and Washington av.

Superintendent of Buildings Thompson has been utilizing the great strike for housecleaning purposes. Over four thousand cases of violations of building ordinances had accumulated in the office, and nearly all have now received the necessary attention.

The Building and Sanitary Inspection Company is preparing the necessary drawings and specifications for a renovation of the heating and ventilating, lighting and plumbing of the New York County Courthouse. The work is to be done during the summer vacation.

During the first quarter of the year in Brooklyn Borough 626 new buildings were commenced and 660 completed; new buildings in progress, 5,392; alterations in progress, 1,850; increase over 1902 in new buildings and alterations, 1,907; increase in cost, $1,870,993.

Mr. Maximilian Toch, of Toch Brothers, of 468-72 West Broadway, recently delivered a lecture in Berlin on the Art and Science of Silvering Mirrors, both in the United States and Germany. We understand that Mr. Toch also had the honor of being presented to the Kaiser.

A new rule regarding armored concrete construction will presently be enforced in the Building Department. Superintendent Thompson is preparing a schedule for making tests, which when satisfactorily passed will win for the constructions they represent the Department's approval.

Among a large number of architects who recommended Mr. Walter T. Smith to Superintendent Thompson, for Chief Inspector of Buildings, were Carrere & Hastings, Clinton & Russell, Babcock & Willard. Mr. Smith is an architect and builder of exceptional experience, and the city is fortunate in obtaining his services.

At Mayor Low's instance the Aqueduct Commission has referred to a committee of three outside experts, Messrs. Burr, Herring and Freeman, all questions as to changes in the plans for the Jerome Park Reservoir. The matters at issue are: An increase from 3 to 8 inches in the thickness of the concrete flooring of the western section, and the use of heavier iron pipes.

The Commissioner of Bridges has recommended that the salaries of the following positions in the Department of Bridges be fixed as follows: Secretary to the Commissioner, per annum, $2,550; Auditor, per annum, $2,550; Chief Clerk, per annum, $2,550; Bookkeeper, per annum, $2,400; Draughtsman, per annum, $1,950; Topographical Draughtsman, per annum, $1,800; Clerk, per annum, $2,100.

The Morse Iron Works and Dry Dock Co. of South Brooklyn, desirous of extending their plant to 58th st, have petitioned for the closing of 57th st, between 1st av and the bulkhead. It is rumored that the proposed improvement is but a forerunner to the acquisition of the plant by other financial interests, in which event it is stated that there will be 2,000 additional men employed at the works.

Superintendent Thompson has, since taking office in the Building Department, put all the fireproof construction companies on the same footing. This applies particularly to fireproof wood concerns and also to floor companies. Heretofore there was one fireproof wood firm whose product was passed without condition, and two whose work was conditioned. Now there is no unconditional acceptance; all fireproof wood must be tested every certain number of feet.

Of the $188,000 appropriated for the completion and equipment of the American Museum of Natural History, $35,000 is for the entrance hall, $60,000 for corridors and approaches to the power wing, $20,000 for sewers and changes in elevation, steam and water mains, $30,000 for painting, casing and lighting of the southwest wing, $26,000 for new steam mains, and $15,000 for construction and furnishing of rooms for the use of teachers and pupils.

A resolution before the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen authorizes the Comptroller to issue corporate stock in the sum of $100,000 for the purpose of acquiring land and building a station-house, prison and stable for patrol wagons for the purpose of the Sixty-eighth Precinct, on a site yet to be selected. Before the same committee is a resolution to provide $395,000 for the construction of a stable on the block bounded by Flushing av, Graham st, Kent av and Little Nassau st, Borough of Brooklyn.

The Building Code has been amended so as to permit the use of either steam or electric pumps for auxiliary fire service in buildings; but where an electric pump is used, the wires and cables must be thoroughly fireproofed. The electric pump, when supplied with power from the street service, has the advantage that it can be immediately operated in case of necessity, where a steam pump might require a starting or enlivening of the fires under the boiler. An electric pump, in many instances, could be operated long after a fire had made such headway as to drive the firemen from the boiler room.

Mr. W. H. Nesbit, of Pfotenhaner & Nesbit, St. James Building, has returned from his Cuban trip. He went through the island with the critical eye of the discerning business man, and has much that is interesting to say about the country. One remark he made was, that on the way out, the whole party were annexationists, while on the way back there was not an annexationist in evidence. He says that Cuba must go through an immense amount of experience in the ways of self-government before a union with her would be desirable, and this kindergarten work had better be accomplished by them on their own hook, than under the tutelage of the United States.

About $100,000 worth of equipment, comprising a large power plant, refrigerating plant, pumps and conveying machinery, is required by the New York Butchers' Dressed Meat Company, 510-512 West 42d st, New York, who are to erect a $500,000 abbatoir on 11th av, between 39th and 40th sts, as heretofore mentioned in these columns. Last September the company had plans for the plant prepared, but were prevented from starting work of erection by the Board of Health, who only granted them a permit last week. As soon as the plans are passed by the Building Department the company will proceed with the construction of the building, which will be 98x125 feet, five stories high. No contracts have been let.

As a sequal to the late strike, the following letter was sent out to various building and contracting firms by the Empire Brick and Supply Company of New York and Brooklyn, on June 10th: "Labor troubles, which since the 1st of May have seriously interfered with the progress of buildings and with all the building interests in this city, have forced a complete suspension in our business of all deliveries of masons' building materials. These troubles, we trust, have now been brought to a successful termination, and we desire to notify you that on Friday, the 12th inst., we will again resume our deliveries, and trust that within a short time the regular routine of business will be again fully established. We desire also to bring to the notice of any of our customers who may do business in the Borough of Brooklyn, that we have opened a yard at Meserole st and Morgan av, Newtown Creek, where we carry a full stock of masons' building materials. All orders for any part of the City of New York or vicinity will receive prompt and careful attention under personal supervision. Thanking you for former courtesies, we hope to continue to receive your favorable consideration. Yours very respectfully, Empire Brick and Supply Company.

PLAN OF ARBITRATION.

In general the employers and employees of each trade are organized. This applies particularly to the mechanics of the trade and those helpers' organizations from which the mechanics of that trade are largely derived.

When the employers have an agreement with their employees, they shall have a trade arbitration board where all difficulties of that trade can be discussed and adjusted; but in addition there shall be a higher court or general arbitration board for the settlement of all disputes between employers and employees, or any question of mutual interest.

Each association represented in the Building Trades' Employers' Association of the City of New York shall elect two arbitrators who shall serve for not less than six months.

Each union, the employers of which are represented in the Building Trades Employers' Association shall elect two arbitrators who shall serve for not less than six months, and who shall be in the employment of a member of the Building Trades' Employers' Association at the time of their election.

THE ARBITRATORS FROM THE UNIONS SHALL NOT BE BUSINESS AGENTS OR MEMBERS OF ANY CENTRAL BOARD OF EMPLOYEES.

From this body of general arbitrators not less than four, two from the Employers' Association and two from the employees' unions shall constitute a court of appeals. They shall meet within forty-eight hours when notified so to do by the general secretary.

The arbitrators from the unions are guaranteed re-employment by their firm or corporation when the special case on which they have served has been disposed of.

The unions as a whole or as a single union shall not order any strike against a member of the Building Trades Employers' Association collectively or individually, nor shall any number of union men leave the work of a member of the Building Trades Employers' Association, nor shall any member of the Building Trades Employers' Association lock out his employees before the matter in dispute has been brought before the General Arbitration Board for settlement.

In those trades which have trade arbitration boards any difficulty between employer and employee shall be adjusted in the arbitration board of that trade, if possible. In case, however, of continued disagreement the matter in dispute must be referred to the General Arbitration Board before a strike or lockout is resorted to.

Complaints shall be first addressed to the General Secretary of the Arbitration Board, who shall be a paid employee, and by him be referred to the executive committee of the General Arbitration Board composed of an equal number of employers and employees, and it shall be their duty at once to organize a special Arbitration Board to decide the point at issue.

It shall be the privilege of any union or member of the employers' association to select from all the general arbitrations the individuals they desire to act for them, but no General Arbitrator can act when the dispute is occurring in the trade which he represents.

The General Arbitrators must be given power by the interest they are acting for.

Arbitration papers are to be drawn up stating specifically the matter in dispute, and that both sides agree to abide by the vote of the majority of the board or the decision of an umpire. The umpire must be selected before the case is opened.

These papers must be properly signed and sealed by the members of the Board, each side receiving its copy. Then after a careful hearing of the case stenographically reported the verdict obtained by a majority vote or decision of the umpire, shall be final and binding.

After a few trials, precedents will be established which can be used to strengthen the position of either side in subsequent trials and can be quoted as in our Courts of Law.

A copy of the foregoing having been sent to each union in the building trades, it was followed by the following letter:

TO OUR EMPLOYEES IN THE BUILDING INDUSTRY:

"For the last few years the conditions in our industry have been steadily growing worse until they culminated in the present cessation of work. As you can see from our platform and plan of arbitration, we have but one object in view, namely, to conduct our business relations in a thoroughly fair, honest and American way, and we want YOU to help us. No doubt our actions, our motives and our plans will be attacked by those representatives of labor who are unwilling to be deprived of any powers which have been given to them, or have been ASSUMED BY THEM.

"In reply we call your attention to the fact that taxation without representation brought forth the War of the American Revolution, and this principle having been adopted by many of your labor leaders, has resulted in the industrial war which confronts us to-day. The plan we propose is not untried. For eighteen years the vital points in it have obtained between the Bricklayers' Union and the Mason Builders' Association of our city, to the mutual satisfaction of those organizations.

"We refuse to believe that the rank and file of labor is acquainted with many of the acts of these representatives and of the conditions that exist, in some of the trades, but how grievous they were is proven by the present standstill and the fact that within three weeks nearly thirty Employers' Associations of our industry have become a unit, as a living protest against oppression and extortion.

"We, therefore, call upon every conservative and thinking mechanic to attend the meeting of his union and register his vote against the un-American methods which have crept into our trade, and insist upon the plan of arbitration as suggested.

"Remember, that in doing so you give up none of the rights which the union enjoys to-day, but that you will prevent a strike or lockout in the future, due to arbitrary acts of individuals on either side. The advantages of this plan must be mutual, inasmuch as our interests are identical, and certainly the trade happenings of the past few years and the present stoppage of work prove that the methods employed in our industrial relations were and are radically wrong. Why not try the other plan?"

Modern Offices and Their Fittings.

The fashion for elaborate metal work in offices, especially in banking houses, is having an astonishing expansion. Many prominent banks have adopted stone and metal almost exclusively for the fittings of their main rooms, and some of our foundries are winning golden laurels in responding to the newborn taste for materials which not only harmonize with the nature of the business transacted, by answering to the claims of security and solidity, but contribute as well a tone of substantial elegance to the surroundings. Twentieth century fine arts have put before the contemporary architect a number of materials new in their adaptability for office fittings: marbles and mosaics, bronze and brass, stucco and carvings, metal cornices and ceilings, ground or figured glass. A little while ago the counter screens in banking offices were of wood, which, even when handsomely carved, seem gloomy in the light of the present fancy for the sheen and graceful forms of metal-work. One of the first of the modern single-story buildings erected exclusively for occupancy of a savings bank, was the North River Savings Institution, designed by Wm. H. Hume. This was erected in 1892 and contains a very handsome example of counter screen, consisting entirely of grille work, the upper cornice surmounted by electric globes. Up to 1899 the firm of Jno. Williams, one of the first to manufacture the modern grille counter screen, had executed but some twenty or so. At the present moment some notable examples of metal work are being done for the Knickerbocker Trust Co., at 5th av and 34th st, McKim, Mead & White, architects; Blair & Company (banking room), Carrere & Hastings, architects; and Speyer & Company, De Lemos & Cordes, architects, while the work in the National Park Bank is the largest contract of the kind ever awarded for one banking room. In the last-mentioned case the work consists of cast bronze of the richest design, and includes doors, electric light standards, cast and wrought bronze coffered ceiling, bronze grille partition screens, counter screens, door and window grilles and balcony railings.

The latest edition of "American Art in Bronze and Iron" (illustrated), issued by the John Williams Bronze Foundry, contains pictures and descriptions of new buildings and interiors where grille work has been done by this establishment, both here in the metropolis and elsewhere. Therein one can study the decorations of many New York offices. The Trust Company of America, 149 Broadway, has an office designed in the Louis XIV. style. The counter and screen is composed of "Breche violette" marble, with bronze grilles and ornamentation in dull gold finish. The latest improvement in the Importers' and Traders' National Bank, 247 Broadway, is the discarding of the heavy wooden screens of the counters and the substitution of a modern brass grille counter screen with ground-glass panels, designed by H. E. Hickox. This handsome example of metal work is finished in dull brass, with antique green showing in the recesses of the ornamented portion of the work, and this, together with the new mesh-work of tellers' cages and the electric fixtures, combines to make a great change in this interior.

The interior of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's building, 1 Madison av, is not less impressive than the exterior. The grand staircase of marble and onyx is one of the sights of the city, and the bronze in the main office is considered very fine. In the recently finished Liberty National Bank, 139 Broadway, there is a marble counter and counter screen of heavy cast bronze holding glass panels. The bronze cornice of the screen carries electric light globes spaced at regular intervals, which add materially to the pleasing design of the screen.

The office of the Bond and Mortgage Department of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, Nassau, Liberty and Cedar sts, is considered in this day of fine office interiors unsurpassed. The architects, Messrs. Clinton & Russell, have combined in the room the richest of San Domingo mahogany and the choicest of white marble with ornamental cast bronze grille work of fine workmanship. The interior of the United National Bank, in 42d st, is beautifully finished in varicgated marble. At the Varick Bank, in West Broadway, a bronze screen is set on a counter of dark Numidian marble. Owing to the situation of the banking room, light enters from one side only, and the counter screen and doors are therefore designed to obstruct a minimum amount of light. The designer has placed the uprights and bars at a considerable distance apart, enriching these with swags and foliated ornamentation, relying mainly for protection on heavy plate glass back of the screen.

The West Side Savings Bank, southeast corner of 9th st and 6th av, has an exceptionally handsome interior designed by Alfred H. Taylor. After passing through a doorway designed in the style of the Italian Renaissance of the sixteenth century, which is built of heavy wrought iron and decorated in bronze green, the visitor enters a room, the floors of which are tiled with Knoxville, Tenn., light dove color marble, the public space being divided from the counting room by a marble and bronze screen which contrasts agreeably with the floor tile. The marble work is imported Alps green marble, which was brought to this country in one large block early last fall, and less than a year ago was a part of the wonderful formation of the Alps.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date os filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482, denote that the property is in section 2 block 482.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers, the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgage. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which ti was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be rcorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage is drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

June 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 10 and 11.

[1]Editor Record and Guide.

We have received notice of the filing of a mechanic's lien June 10 against this property by the National Machine Painting Co., for $125.00, and wish to say that we bought this property free and clear, and did not know that this bill had not been paid. This is an unjust proceeding on the part of Oscar and Caroline Wiedhopf, the former owners, and we will see that it has their immediate attention.

ESTATE OF F. G. JANUSCH,
HARRIET K. JANUSCH.

The Rule About Projections.

THE KNICKERBOCKER TRUST COMPANY'S PORTICO AND MR. GEORGE W. VANDERBILT'S PORTE COCHERE.

Superintendent of Buildings Thompson says that the rule recently established providing that all plans showing projections beyond the building line shall be filed in duplicate in the Building Bureau, and that the Commissioner of Public Works shall be informed at once of such intended projections, and furnished with a copy of the plans, in order that the public interests may be protected in respect thereto, is working admirably, and will prevent in the future all improper encroachments and violations of the law, of which the Vanderbilt porte cochere; the Knickerbocker Trust Company building, at 34th st and 5th av; the Café Martin, and Sherry's, have been conspicuous examples in the past. The final approval of all plans showing projections are now withheld by the Building Bureau until a permit has been issued by the Commissioner of Public Works and attached to the plans.

In regard to the Knickerbocker Trust Company's portico, there was an interesting judicial decision this week. It is held by the present city authorities that the portico of the building, with its steps, coping and area, encroached on the 5th av sidewalk to the extent of 15 feet, where the limit was 7 feet, and on the 34th st sidewalk by 7 feet, the limit being 5 feet. But the plans for the building were approved by the Municipal Assembly two years ago, having also received the sanction of the Building Department at that time.

On Monday, the city authorities asked Judge Blanchard, in the Supreme Court, for a mandatory injunction and an order to remove the projections, but the court said that the fact that they have been completed in full compliance with the plans filed with the Building Department and approved of by it, might properly be considered as affecting the exercise of the discretion resting with the court. If the encroachments complained of were in violation of the law their removal could be decreed. The defendant would complete them at its peril. As they are substantially completed at the present time, and some measures of acquiescence had been given to the work now done by the city authorities, he had determined not to require their removal nor to restrain their completion at the present time.

As respects the Vanderbilt porte cochere, Justice Blanchard reserved decision after hearing the argument on the application for an injunction. George W. Murray, representing Mr. Vanderbilt, declared that the addition "as a structural thing was completed before this action was begun." He cited resolutions of the Common Council passed in the last seventy-five years to show that the stoop line had been established in 5th av, 15 feet distant from the building line, and sought to make a point of the Building Department's approval of the plans for the portico, and declared that this approval amounted to the granting of permission by the city for the structure. But Assistant Corporation Counsel Arthur F. Cosby denied this. "Any structure outside of the building line is not within the jurisdiction of the Building Department," he declared. "That is a matter for the Department of Streets and Highways." Mr. Cosby also insisted that the structure in question was not a portico, but a porte cochere, and clearly not within certain rulings of the courts permitting the erection of porticos within the stoop line. "This is a most flagrant violation, and the only one of its kind in the city," Mr. Cosby declared.

To Relieve Bridge Crush.

Plans suggested by the Bridge Commissioner months ago for extending the available traffic capacity of the Brooklyn Bridge having at last been assented to by the other parties in interest, the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co. and the bridge tenants, four new loops are to be laid inside the present loops at the Park row station. To permit of this being done, it will be necessary to widen the roadways, and to cut away the galleries in part and the roadways in part, so that much of the interior fittings must needs be reconstructed; by which operation the interests and property rights of Luyties Bros., who have offices and storehouses in the bridge building, will be to some extent encroached upon. Disagreement as to liability and responsibility for resulting damages caused the work to be put off; but it is now the understanding that the expense up to $90,000 will be borne by the railroad company, and anything more than this the city will pay. The company's contract requires it to defray the cost of additional facilities when these become necessary and are approved.

At the office of Commissioner Lindenthal it was said that most of the material has already been ordered and delivered, and that the work will proceed at once. The four new loops, it is believed, will materially relieve the congestion at the Manhattan terminal during the evening rush hours and will enable the company to operate more cars at more frequent intervals, the present loops being insufficient to accommodate the great number of cars crossing the bridge when traffic is at its height.

We will give ten cents each for copies of the following brought to this office in good condition: Nos. 1678, 1689, 1712, 1716, 1735, 1737.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgage. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, he time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

Vol. LXXI. JUNE 20, 1903. No. 1840.

THE stock market during the week past has not exhibited any very decided tendencies. It is quite apparent, however, that the bear ammunition has been pretty completely shot away. A twice-told tale may have a charm as literature, but it never possesses much of its original force subsequently upon the investor. On the other hand, the facts and conditions that are making for higher prices have not yet disclosed themselves in that clear and obvious form which the optics of the ordinary man demands before he can see them and be induced to act upon them. There are immediately ahead, however, a number of events that may be counted upon to help the market and develop a proper appreciation of stocks at current prices. On the 27th, for instance, the Pennsylvania subscriptions will be in and it will be seen then that stockholders have taken all the new stock without any dislocation of the money market. Again, as we all know, Mr. Morgan will soon be home. The Conciliation Anthracite Coal Board is to hold its first meeting, and some of the sense of uneasiness that arises in that direction will be removed. Moreover, we shall soon hear that the chief of one of the largest of the "Industrials" has resigned. Klondike gold is due to arrive, and the continuance of another week of sunshine in the West will give an additional assurance as to the splendid crop outlook. It should also be noted that the labor situation is generally improving. As any and each of these points develop themselves an accompanying improvement in the general tone of the market is pretty sure to result. We have seen every available scare used of late to depress prices, and it is now in order that the "other side" should be heard from.

ONE of the worst obstacles to the advance of American art has always been the pressure which is brought to bear upon American artists of all kinds to adopt the most up-to-date and business-like methods in their work; and evidence of this pressure and the idea that accompanies it may be plainly seen in the assignment to Mr. Philip Martiny of the work of designing the remaining sculpture which is to be placed on the new Hall of Records. The amount of this sculpture is very considerable. There are to be two big seated groups near the street at the entrances on Chambers and Centre Streets, four portraits of the Governors of the Colony under the Dutch, and over these four rondos in relief, with historical subjects. In addition, there are to be standing figures, portraits of distinguished New Yorkers, between the windows of the second story, below the eaves. All these groups, figures and reliefs Mr. Martiny is supposed to model in three years; and if he succeeds in accomplishing the task he will undoubtedly have a right to be called the best contract sculptor in the country. He will be able to model or have modeled a large number of figures in a shorter space of time for a smaller sum of money than any other reputable American sculptor. The idea at the bottom of such an agreement is that a sculpture contract should be given out like any other contract, and the lowest bidder, all things considered, should get the job; and if it prevails our new public buildings will undoubtedly be decorated at a very cheap price and in a very short time, with some of the most mechanical and worthless statuary which New Yorkers have ever seen. On the other hand, another recent example shows just as plainly how sculpture contracts should be given out, in case you want not cheap and quick sculpture but beautiful and expensive sculpture. Mr. Augustus St. Gaudens obtained the commission for designing the equestrian statue of General Sherman some eleven years ago. He was paid what was considered to be a very high price, and was allowed as much time as he needed. Doubtless no man whose reputation was less considerable and whose qualifications for that particular task were smaller would have been granted such terms; but at any rate the sculptor was given the time and money he needed to keep making his changes and improvements until he had perfected his original conception. The result is a masterpiece, and who shall say that it is not worth all that it cost and much more? But Mr. St. Gaudens actually gave as much of his personal labor—three years—to this one group as Mr. Martiny will give to seven or more of figures and reliefs intended for the Hall of Records; and it may be confidently predicted that if the Sherman is worth incomparably more than a big price, Mr. Martiny's contract sculpture will be worth very considerably less than a small one.

THE Borough President, Mr. Cantor, has exhibited commendable enterprise in having plans drawn for a subway whereby the Broadway cars can get through Greeley Square at a lower grade than that used by the Sixth Avenue and the 34th Street crosstown lines. These plans simply carry out one of the suggestions of the State Railway Commission, and, considering the desirability of the improvement, should not meet with any opposition. Objections, if at all, are likely to come from only two sources. In the first place, this subway may conflict with the plans for the proposed rapid transit subway on Broadway from 42d to 14th Street; but if so we have no hesitation in saying that the plans for the rapid transit subway should if possible be modified. It is very much to be hoped that the Rapid Transit Commission will alter its chief engineer's suggestion in this particular, and lay out the West Side extension along Seventh Avenue; but if it should decide to cleave to the narrower Broadway route, the bigger subway should be run deep enough to allow the smaller one to go over it. Obviously some provision must be made for the congestion of surface traffic on Greeley Square. It is bad enough at the present time. Five years from now, when the Pennsylvania tunnel will be in use, it will have become intolerable; and to run a rapid transit tunnel under the Square in such a fashion that no alleviation could be given to the intersecting surface traffic would constitute an inexcusably short-sighted method of dealing with a serious transit complication. Objections may also be made on the score that the city will bear the expense of this proposed subway, while the Metropolitan Railway Company will get the advantage of it. But surely the railway company would agree to lease the tunnel for five per cent. of its cost. It would be an enormous advantage to the company in the prompt handling of its traffic, and would be worth far more to it than the small rental that would have to be paid. Should the company refuse to pay such a rental a difficult dilemma would be created, for it is certainly bad policy to allow a private company such a facility at a considerable expense to the city treasury without securing adequate remuneration. But this dilemma need not be feared until it actually arises. It is sufficient for the present that such a tunnel is an early necessity, and that preliminary steps should be taken to have it constructed. There is no square in the city which is likely to be in a worse congested condition than Greeley Square unless prompt measures are taken to secure adequate relief.

THE admission on the part both of the Chief Engineer and the Contractor of the Subway that no trains will be running during the current year will be a great disappointment to New Yorkers. The residents of the West Side particularly have been looking forward to some relief from the delays and discomforts of their present means of communication during the coming winter, and the assurance that owing to delays for which the strikers are in the main responsible they will have to pull through the coming winter without any betterment of their situation will not be very patiently received. For our own part, we doubt very much whether many trains will be running by July 1, 1904, for it may be reasonably inferred that the remainder of the work will not be completed without other delays of the same kind; and this fact should stimulate the Rapid Transit Commission to reach some speedy agreement with the management of the elevated roads which will enlarge the capacity of that system. During the height of the travel last winter the transit situation became well-nigh intolerable; but intolerable as it was it promises, unless some measure of improvement is afforded, to be very much worse during the coming winter months. The better facilities for boarding trains at some of the downtown and uptown stations will help; but what is particularly needed is a more considerable train service; and so far as has been announced nothing has yet been done to provide it. We do not understand why the Rapid Transit Commission has not acted more promptly in this all-important matter. It is some four or five months since the chief engineer proposed certain very desirable increases in the trackage of the elevated roads; and since the situation is so critical, that part of his recommendations should have received the immediate attention and arrangements made, if possible, to begin work before this. Of course, we do not imagine that the Commission has been wholly idle about the matter, but some definite result should already have been reached, or else good reasons should have been given why such definite results could not be achieved. But so far New Yorkers have been paid only with silence, and now that they have been confessedly denied relief from the only other possible quarter they will expect with more impatience than before that an early and helpful arrangement be reached with the Interborough Company as to the elevated train service.

Real Estate Situation.

Decrease in Apartment Hotels.

The Record and Guide has frequently stated that the very considerable building of apartment hotels which was so conspicuous during 1901 and 1902 would not be permanently an important fraction of the building figures of Manhattan. That the apartment hotel has come to stay we fully believe, because through its economy of space and service it undoubtedly offers very fair accommodations for a comparatively small price, and because it appeals to the manner of life of an increasing division of the population of New York. But it is obvious that the erection of about eighty of those buildings at a cost not far from $35,000,000 in two years was an excessive rate of construction, and we predicted a large decrease in the number of these buildings for which plans were filed during the current year. That decrease is now taking place. During the first six months of 1902 plans were filed for thirty-one apartment hotels to be built at an estimated cost of $14,375,000, whereas during the first five months and a half of the current year the number is only twenty-one and the estimated cost $5,093,000. It will be seen that there is a much larger decrease in the estimated cost than there is in the number; and this indicates that only about one-third as much apartment hotel accommodation will be added to the city's stock during 1903 as during 1902. The decrease is not to be explained on the ground of any actual overbuilding, for the newer buildings as they come upon the market are well rented; but rather upon a general impression which prevails that it is well to go slow with such an experimental class of improvement. There has been a disposition to return to the well established type of apartment house; and this disposition would be very much stronger were it possible to legally erect a building resembling the former seven-story semi-fireproof flat. Moreover, real estate and building conditions scarcely favor the erection of apartment hotels. The price of desirable plots in the central part of the city, which include the favorite locations for these buildings, has become so high that it leaves the builder a very small margin of profit. Moreover, the price of the fireproof materials out of which the building is constructed is, relatively speaking, quite as high as the price of the land, and consequently discourages the speculative builders who put these apartment hotels on the market. How long this lull will last will depend partly upon the persistence of the present high prices for land and materials. In all probability these hotels will count hereafter for between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000 a year in the building figures of Manhattan; and if they count for more than that it will only be because cheaper types of apartment hotels will be erected.

IN order to understand the action of the Employers' Association in refusing to deliver materials unless the unions consent to the plan of arbitration recently submitted by the association the nature and object of the arbitration proposals must be carefully considered. Under existing conditions every employer's business is at the mercy of the walking delegates, who can call strikes on the most frivolous pretexts, and whose power encourages the kind of blackmail which has recently been exposed in the daily newspapers. The plan of arbitration aims at two objects. In the first place it seeks to put a check upon unnecessary and frivolous strikes by providing that none shall be ordered until the dispute shall be thoroughly discussed at a joint meeting of both sides. In the second place it stipulates that the union representatives on these arbitration boards shall represent the trades and not some central body. Of course, the whole matter hinges on this second stipulation. As long as the Board of Delegates retains its existing powers no plan of arbitration can be effective, and no employer can assume contracts with any assurance that the contract will be profitable. A method of organizing the unions which gives the employers a chance of fair treatment is indispensable to any permanent condition of labor work in the New York building trades; and we cannot see the plan proposed threatens the interests of any mechanics, except those who have ceased to be such in order to become walking delegates. The plan proposed looks towards a condition of affairs in which no mechanic will unnecessarily lose a day's work in the course of the year, in which all his demands will receive full consideration and discussion, and in which the mechanic will count for quite as much as the employer in all regulations affecting their joint interests. In proposing for such a system, and in endeavoring to secure its adoption by forcible means, the employers may be making a mistake; but we believe that the possible result is worth the certain risk. The present organization, both of the employers and the skilled mechanics, is militant; it is founded on the idea that the interests of the two parties are essentially opposed, and that either one of them can gain his ends only by fighting the other. Well, as long as the walking delegates retain their present powers it will continue to be the case that the mechanics can only improve their position by strikes and the loss which strikes entail; but under the proposed plan of arbitration the same ends could be reached by a process of conciliation persuasion. Undoubtedly the employes would be justified in withdrawing from the arbitration argument if they found that it worked against their permanent and better interests, but they ought to see the advantage of at least trying an abandonment of their present militant attitude and an acceptance of a plan which seeks similar results without any regular losses in wages.

Areas of Tax Assessment.

SINCE real estate must necessarily bear the chief burden of local taxation, and since the chief difficulty in connection with taxing real estate is not to find it, but to value it correctly, the equitable assessment of real estate is unquestionably the first desideratum of any system of local taxation. It is believed by tax reformers that they have gone a long way recently toward securing for New York a more equitable assessment. In the first place, a perfectly definite rule has been established. Real estate is to be assessed at its full value, as is provided by law; and it is not consequently to be assessed at some arbitrary percentage of its full value. In the second place, these full assessed valuations are to be published, so as to place the check of the utmost possible publicity upon any attempted evasions of the law. Finally the Deputy Tax Commissioners have been given the duty of stating in their reports to the Board the value of any given parcel of real estate, both with and without the improvements upon it. By these means tax reformers expect to get a much more uniform and just assessment than ever before. The Deputy Assessors are thereby placed in a position of putting a perfectly definite appraisal upon a piece of property, of indicating how they reached the figure, and of being detected in any attempt to under-estimate the value, whereas formerly these assessors appraised at an indefinite percentage, were not obliged to show upon what information or rule the appraisal was based, and could estimate the value of a parcel with impunity at anywhere between 50 and 100 per cent. of its market value.

We sincerely hope that the tax reformers will not be disappointed in the expectation they entertain that these measures will bring about a much higher degree of uniformity in the assessment lists. There is no doubt that the list which will shortly be confirmed has fewer discrepancies in it than any assessment list of the near past; and the additional measures taken by the legislature of publicity and of a separate appraisal of land and building are warranted both by experience and good sense. Yet we are inclined to believe that the authors of these measures are expecting more from them than they will yield; and this opinion is shared by many people whose knowlege of real estate values and of prevalent conditions in the tax office is most thorough. The fault of the new system is that it seeks to improve the law without making any attempt to improve its method of administration; and it is in its method of administration that the law is most defective. The Deputy Assessor is "up against" a very stiff job, and if he manages to perform it with satisfaction to himself, to the heads of the department and to the property owners he will most assuredly be displaying an amount of information and ability which should be worth more than $2,500 a year to their possessor.

In the first place, very few people realize the amount of territory for which one of these deputy assessors is responsible. In Manhattan, for instance, the first district includes all the blocks south of Grand and Watts Streets and west of the Bowery and James Street. The second district covers all the land east of James Street, the Bowery and Third Avenue and south of 14th Street. The third district comprises the land west of the Bowery and Third Avenue, between Grand and Watts streets on the south side and 14th Street on the north. Thus it seems that three deputy assessors must take charge of following all the improvements and alterations in value which take place in real estate covering the enormous area south of 14th Street and affected by very widely different conditions. Further uptown the districts are even larger. The fourth district, for instance, runs west of Fifth Avenue from 14th Street to 26th Street and west of Sixth Avenue from 26th to 40th Street; the fifth district takes in the lots east of Fifth Avenue from 14th to 26th Street, east of Sixth Avenue from 26th Street to 40th Street. The sixth district stretches from 40th to 59th Street west of Sixth Avenue and from 59th to 96th Street west of Central Park West. It includes, consequently, more than 300 blocks and probably as much as 15,000 parcels of property. It is equaled, however, by the seventh district, which runs east of Sixth Avenue from 40th to 59th Street and east of Fifth Avenue from 59th to 79th Street. The eighth division comprises the territory bounded by Fifth and Lenox Avenues, 79th Street and the Harlem River. The ninth district runs from 96th to 138th Street, west of Central Park West and Lenox Avenue, while the tenth takes in the territory west of Lenox Avenue from 138th Street to Spuyten Duyvil.

The Deputy Commissioner begins about August 1st to revise the assessments in these districts; and he must have the job completed and his books written up by January 1st, besides doing very considerable clerical work. In accomplishing this task he has no one to assist or to check him. A broker who was asked to appraise a piece of property and to estimate the value of the house separate from the value of the land would be expected personally to examine the house, and would have the advantage of private office records. He could hardly do the work conscientiously unless he took at the least some hours to the task; but the Deputy Assessor must pass on anywhere between 50 and 100 parcels in the course of the day; he has not the advantage of private records; he has not the time for personal inspection; and owing to the increase of the practice of inserting nominal considerations in deeds, the public records are not of as much value to him as they were. Of course, hitherto he has used what sources of information he had, and made the best guess he could as to values; but hereafter he will have to estimate closely without having either the opportunity or the necessary information to give his close estimate a solid foundation. At the same time he is informed that if he cannot make an accurate scientific appraisal he is not fit for his position.

It is this aspect of the task of getting equitable assessments which needs careful consideration. It is very well to provide for scientific assessment by law; but the appraiser who can assess from 50 to 100 parcels of property every day and discriminate on each parcel the value of the land from the value of the building is more expert than the great majority of New York brokers. There is no city in the world in which values vary so constantly and apparently so arbitrarily as in New York; there is no city in the world in which the buildings count in places for so much and in other places for so little; and if the tax reformers want an equitable assessment they would do well to depend more upon giving the deputy assessors a better chance and less upon obtaining full and fair valuation by legal enactment.

Tenement House Law Attacked.

UNITED REAL ESTATE OWNERS' ASSOCIATION RESIST THE ENFORCEMENT OF NEW SANITARY REGULATIONS.

When the Tenement House Department of the City of New York brought an action in the Seventh District Municipal Court against Katie Moeschen, the owner of premises 332 East 39th st, to recover $250 penalty for failure to comply with Section 100 of the Tenement House Law, which requires the removal of the school sinks and the substitution of individual closets, the Real Estate Association of the Twelfth and Nineteenth wards referred the matter to the United Real Estate Owners' Association of the City of New York, which is a federation of various neighborhood organizations, and having upwards of seven thousand members, and that association determined to make the Moeschen case a test case, and referred it to their counsel, Mr. Adolph Bloch, of 99 Nassau st.

Mr. Bloch had a conference with the Assistant Corporation Counsel, Mr. Fleming, who is in charge of the law matters of the Tenement House Department, and it was agreed that the issues in the Moeschen case were to be so framed as to be generally applicable to tenement houses in the City of New York, so that a final decision of this case will apply to all houses in the City of New York which now contain school sinks. It is stipulated between counsel that there are between eight and nine thousand school sinks in the City of New York. The cost of complying with the requirements of the law would be on the average about $1,000 a house, some say more, dependent upon whether the closets are constructed in the yard, which plan is deemed impracticable, or whether the closets are constructed in the house, in separate compartments or shafts. The amount involved in this action Attorney Bloch asserts, is upwards of $10,000,000.

The complaint sets forth substantially that an order was duly issued by the department and personally served on Mrs. Moeschen requiring her to comply with the provisions of Section 100 of the Act; that she failed to comply with the order, and by reason thereof an action has accrued in favor of the department against the defendant for the penalty of $250, according to the provisions of the Tenement House Law.

The defendant's answer, as submitted by her counsel attacks the constitutionality of Section 100 of the Tenement House Law, and, indeed, the entire law itself, asserting, in the first place, that the Tenement House Law and the acts amendatory thereof are null and void and of no force and effect, in that they were enacted in violation of and not in conformity to Section 2 of Article XII. of the Constitution of the State of New York, and constitute in fact a special city law, not for all the cities of the first class, and was enacted without having obtained the prior acceptance of the City of New York as required by Section 2 of Article XII. of the State Constitution.

In support of the defense it is averred that the Tenement House Law, while ostensibly applying to all the cities of the first class, namely, New York City and Buffalo, in fact was intended to and did only apply to the City of New York by operation of Chapter 547 of the Laws of 1902, which amends the original Tenement House Law by adding a new clause to the effect that its provisions shall not be deemed to have applied to the City of Buffalo before January 1, 1902; that accordingly the City of New York alone was affected by the provisions of the law from the date of its passage, April 11, 1891, to January 1, 1902. For that reason defendant claims that it was a special law and that the consent of the Mayor of the City of New York should first have been obtained.

In the second place, Section 100 of the Tenement House Law particularly is asserted to be null and void, on the ground that it is in violation of and contravention of Section 6 of Article I. of the Constitution of the State of New York, and of Section 1 of the Fourteenth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States, in that it deprives a man of his property without the process of law and without just compensation.

Third. That the said Tenement House Law is of no force and effect for the reason that it imposes and seeks to impose a requirement unreasonable, arbitrary, improper and unfair, in that it seeks to deprive this defendant of her property without due process of law and without making due and adequate compensation therefore, and authorizes and directs the taking of private property not for public use. That the order amounts to a confiscation and spoliation of this defendant's property under the guise and form of the law, that compliance with it is in fact impossible, that an excessive and unreasonable outlay of money would be required in attempting compliance, and that the amount of expense is not warranted by the value of the property or the defendant's equity therein, nor by the nature of the work required by the statute.

It is further declared that the house was constructed under the supervision of the departments of the City of New York which are charged with the duty of supervising construction, that the plans and specifications had been previously filed, and that the building when completed and as completed received official approval. That prior to the year 1890 the school sink referred to in the complaint was duly constructed and placed in the premises in obedience to an order from the Board of Health, and that it was finally approved of by that Department.

The answer demands that the complaint be dismissed with costs. The Corporation Counsel demurred to portions of the answer and the demurrer was argued at length on Tuesday, June 16, before Mr. Justice Joseph, who finally decided to overrule the demurrer interposed by the Tenement House Department and permit evidence in support of the defence to be interposed on the trial which began yesterday, June 19, at the Seventh District Court before Judge Joseph and a jury which has been demanded.

Mr. Bloch being interviewed for the Record and Guide stated that it was agreed between counsel to try the case before Judge Joseph, who agreed to set aside two days if necessary, in order that the issues in every aspect might be presented. The Court and counsel realize the vast interests which are at stake and depend upon the final result of this case, and the issues will be so framed as to secure a decision which will be generally applicable. It was further agreed that whatever outcome there might be to the trial before Judge Joseph, the case would be submitted to the Appellate Term of the Supreme Court at the earliest possible date and then to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court. Ordinarily the right to appeal would terminate with this court, but it is believed that owing to the importance of the case the Appellate Division under the rules can be induced to grant a certificate setting forth that owing to the importance of the case a decision by the highest court of the State would be desirable. Thereupon the case will be taken to the Court of Appeals at Albany. Mr. Bloch further states that as the defense sets forth the violation of the Constitution of the United States that there is a possibility of a final appeal to that court.

"It certainly seems clear to me," he added, "that where the State has already exercised its police power, and has required the removal of privy vaults and the substitution of school sinks, its policy was declared, and the State cannot now require the owner to undo that which he was formerly required to do at a great and extraordinary expense."

The Moeschen case will not necessarily act as a stay in the other cases of the department. The United Real Estate Owners' Association, however, will it is expected appeal for an injunction in or defend any case that may be brought by the Tenement House Department against any of the members of the local organizations constituting the central association.

Gossip of the Week.

Site for Addition to the Knickerbocker Building.

39TH ST.—Theodore C. Camp has purchased from the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co 116 West 39th st, a 4-sty building, on lot 25x98.9. Mr. Camp recently took title to No. 118, so that the two purchases give him a plot 50x98.9, which abutts the Knickerbocker building at the northeast corner of Broadway and 39th st, owned by the Goelet estate, and it is said that the Camp lots will be used as an addition to that structure, Mr. Camp having represented the Goelets in the deal. Alexander Muffen and H. I. Phillip were the brokers.

Negotiations for the Hotel St. Marc and Adjoining Property.

5TH AV.—F. V. and J. H. Burton have disposed of their large holdings on the west side of 5th av, between 38th and 39th sts, including the old Hotel St. Marc property and several adjoining dwellings. Frank V. Burton said that there had been considerable recent negotiation for the property, but that no agreement had been reached, and that no contracts had been signed. He added that the parties who are seeking to acquire the plot have planned to erect theron two business structures. The combined holdings of the Messrs Burton make a plot of about 20,000 sq. ft. The property covers all of the block front on the west side of 5th av, between 38th and 39th sts, with the exception of the two corners. A total frontage of 131.4 ft., while "L's" to both 38th and 39th sts give additional frontages on those two thoroughfares of 16 and 47 ft. respectiveiy. The northwest corner of 5th av and 38th st is owned by Margaret Switzer, and the southwest corner of 39th st is the site of Black, Starr & Frost's building, the latter firm being the buyer of the northerly half of the plot. The Messrs. Burton bought 426 to 430 in 1902 for a total of $645,000, No. 432 they bought in 1900 for $190,000, Nos. 434 together with the 38th and 39th sts parcels were transferred to them in 1900, the revenue stamps on the deed indicating a consideration of only $120,000. This latter transfer was a family affair, the revenue stamps probably representing the interest of the seller.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

—The two most interesting announcements of the week concern properties on 5th av, both south of 59th st. The Burton parcel, a block front with the exception of the two corners, the sellers bought for about $1,000,000, though the selling price has been quoted all the way up to $2,000,000. It is said that the buyers will improve at once. The store of No. 426 is leased until 1911, and part of 432 until May, 1905. These leases make it look as if the building operation was in the distant future, unless the leases contain a clause terminating them sooner. In addition we hear from a reliable source that the property has not been sold and that Black, Starr & Frost are not even negotiating for the property, we however print the item for what it is worth.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

Park av, between 110th and 120th sts, whlch has been dead for a long time, appears to be picking up. The avenue is now being repaved, and that may account for some of the lmprovement, as next to St. Nicholas av it was the worst paved street ln town. One of the latest aspirants for fame and fortune in realty work divides his time between selling and renting real estate, and dealing out drugs and medicines. Surely the days of combination are not at an end!

The city will pay $32,750 for 74 Monroe st, corner of Mechanics' alley, 93x20.4, containing a 7-sty and basement building, covering the entire lot. The site is required for the Manhattan anchorage of the Manhattan Bridge.

Church st has been opened while a telephone line is being put through, interferring with traffic not a little, the street being narrow. This moves us to say that somewhere in the calendar of the future there ought to be better luck for Church st. Widened, it would make a fine business street, as well as a suitable approach to the new Manhattan and Hudson tunnel.

The only objection to the laying out of West 167th st, Manhattan, between St. Nicholas av and Broadway, seems to be that it will leave a small triangular strip at the intersection of St. Nicholas av and Broadway, but as it follows the lines of the adjacent streets to the north and south, it seems to be a logical improvement, and the Board of Estimate is expected to order it.

The American Seamen's Friend Society, of 74 Wall st, which recently disposed of their property, 188 and 190 Cherry st to the city for $110,000, as a site for the anchorage of the Williamsburgh Bridge, has not yet secured another home.

Marble Hill may be another "grand central depot" in the future. It is said that the plans of the New York Central in changing its terminal in this city provides for the construction of a large union station near Marble Hill, on sixty city lots recently purchased there. The station will be used jointly by the New York Central, the Subway and the Elevated. The substitution of electricity for steam will make the Croton Landing the end of the electric division and cause a new city to spring up there.

The proposed change of lines of Westchester av, in the Bronx, consists in extending the avenue as it is laid out between Virginia av and the Watson estate westerly about 775 ft. to an angle point and running thence westerly to the Bronx River, including that portion which was laid out for the approach to the Westchester Avenue Bridge. By changing the lines in this way, the existing Westchester av, from the lowlands easterly of the Watson estate to the Bronx River, will lie entirely within the proposed new lines. The matter is now before the Board of Estimate.

Mr. John L. Parish is referred to in the following terms by the "New York Journal": "When John L. Parish, a native of Chicago, was twenty-six years old, he was elected to the Illinois Legislature, serving two terms. From 1883 to 1885 he served Uncle Same as Consul to Chemnitz, Saxony, and for about sixteen years thereafter he was real estate writer and editor on New York journals. Upon the death of William M. Ryan, his business was acquired by the newly formed firm of Parish, Fisher, Mooney & Co., which still occupies the late Mr. Ryan's offices at No. 149 Broadway. Mr. Parish represents his firm in the Real Estate Auctioneers' Association, and as an auctioneer of real estate he has few equals, even among the older members. Mr. Parish is a member of the Transportation Club of New York, the Brooklyn Athletic Club, the Taxpayers' Club and other organizations."

The Pennsylvania Railroad has finally taken steps to acquire by condemnation those parcels needed for its station site in this city, which it has been unable to get by private contract. On Thursday its tunnel corporation, the Pennsylvania, New York & Long Island Railroad Co. filed lis pendens notices on No. 399 7th av, Nos. 437 and 441 8th av, and Nos. 301, 303, 320, 325, 334, 335, 337, 341, 343, 351, 353, 359, 372, 379 and 386 West 33d sts. Presumably the move is made with hope that it will effect the minds of all recalcitrant property owners in such a way that litigation will be avoided. The action is to acquire the property by eminent domain.

A separate county for Bronx Borough would necessitate the construction of more governmental machinery and provide many nice positions, but the sentiment among large property-holders there seems not in favor of a change. One gentleman largely interested in Bronx realty and occupying a high municipal position, when interrogated for the Record and Guide, could find no argument to use in favor of a separation. No interest connected with real estate would be better served by a new county, he said, but rather burdened with greater expense and hampered by more red tape. The interests that are advancing the scheme are trying to induce Yonkers, New Rochelle and Mt. Vernon to co-operate.

A big deal in Brooklyn suburban property was consummated this week when the real estate firm of McNulty & Fitzgerald sold to a syndicate of Western speculators two large tracts of unimproved land in the Ocean Parkway section. One of the tracts which was bought for about $125,000, is on the east side of Ocean Parkway, extending from Avenue N to Avenue O, and reaching back almost to Coney Island av. The other purchase is the Christian farm, a twenty-two-acre tract, bounded by Avenues S. T and U, and West 7th to 10th sts. The price said to have been about $65,000. The new owners of the two tracts intend to improve and develop them.

Obituary Note.

William J. Lyon, former Deputy Controller of New York City, and until now auditor for the law branch of Controller Grout's office, died at his home in Lyon's, N. J., on Tuesday, aged 56. Mr. Lyon practiced law after graduating from Princeton until appointed private secretary for Controller Hastings Grant. Later he was auditor, and Controller Fitch made him to be his Deputy. Under Mr. Coler he served as an expert accountant. Mr. Lyon was a member of the Colonial and Manhattan clubs, the Kappa Phi Fraternity, and the General Committee of Tammany Hall. He was for many years trustee of the Park Avenue Presbyterian Church.

Meeting of Owners.

The Real Estate Owners' Association of the Twelfth and Nineteenth wards has a membership of about 800, meeting in the Turn Hall building, at 85th st and Lexington av, the second Friday of every month. At the last meeting the members took a stand upon the question of water meters, and also in regard to sanitary arrangements in dwellings. The Tenement House Department having recently issued orders to abolish school sinks, the association has employed counsel to oppose the proceeding. The association contends that owners who have their premises in a sanitary condition, where the sanitary arrangements were installed under the supervision of the Health Department, cannot be compelled to go again to a heavy expense because of this new law.

The chairman of the Committee on Water Supply of the association reported on the scarcity of water, and it was the sense of the members that they should aid the Commissioner in preventing waste of water. The following resolution was, however, passed.

Resolved, That this Association protest against any attempted plan for installing meters in private or apartment houses used for dwelling only.

A petition was presented asking that a committee be appointed to call on the proper authorities, requesting that a free public bath be placed in the vicinity of 70th and 80th sts. Through the efforts of this association a new school is to be erected on East 89th st.

—Once upon a time Men painted their business buildings all over with Signs. The Walls of otherwise Unoffending structures were often made Hideous. They Shrieked at people passing, but Nobody Heard them when out of Sight. The Successful business man now hangs his Sign in the Newspapers, and simply his Business Name over his Door; for the Public know the Rest. Therefore is not the architectural Beauty of a million-dollar Store Spoiled by Thirteen-dollars' worth of Loud paint.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Architects and builders are looking forward to a period of marked activity in the way of building construction in Washington, D. C., within the next few years, as something like $20,000,000 is to be expended in the erection of public buildings alone. Among the improvements to be made are a new union railroad station, to cost $5,000,000; a new municipal building, to cost $1,500,000; an office building for the use of the members of the House of Representatives, to cover an entire square, and to cost $3,000,000; an addition to the Department of Agriculture, with probably several millions more to be expended later; a new National Museum, to cost $3,500,000; a Hall of Records, to cost $2,000,000; and a number of minor structures, such as the new Freedman's Hospital and additions to the Providence, the Garfield and the Homoeopathic hospitals, costing in the aggregate about $1,000,000. In addition to these expenditures it is probable that the erection of a Department of Commerce building and other Federal buildings along the Mall, all in accordance with the plans of the Park Commission, will be authorized by the Fifty-eighth Congress and will provide for the disbursement of many millions more from the United States Treasury.

Of Interest to the Building Trades.

A fire alarm system is to be installed in Bellevue Hospital. Bids will be received until next Monday at 3.30 p. m.

Sewers are to be built immediately in 134th and 135th sts, between Broadway and Amsterdam avs, and 136th and 138th sts, between Convent and Amsterdam avs.

Commissioner and Mrs. Robert W. De Forest have left their town residence, and are at Wawapek Farm, their country place at Cold Spring Harbor, Long Island, for the summer.

The granite blocks in 15th st, between 10th and 11th avs, will give way to sheet asphalt this summer. The paving of West 157th st, between St. Nicholas and Amsterdam avs, has also been authorized.

Reports from the outlying districts, such as Southern Kings County and the whole of Queens, also Staten Island, Jersey City and Westchester County, indicate a veritable boom in the construction of wooden buildings.

Water meters have been ordered to be placed in all public buildings and in places where water is furnished free of charge, such as hospitals and institutions; also at various points upon the distributing mains throughout the city.

Hose for builders use, of the right kind, that is which comes near to being everlasting, can be obtained at Goodyear's Rubber Cleaner Mfg. Works, 105 West 125th st. A cut which is a facsimile of this superior hose appears in an advertisement on another page. Telephone 2080 J. Morningside calls the Goodyear Rubber Cleaner Mfg. Works, who will promptly fill all orders.

We should have more mural and ceiling decoration in our offices. The feeling that decoration, so far as interior fittings are concerned, is out of place, has long gone by, but prejudices still linger in favor of expanses unadorned on walls and ceilings, as if good ornament there would be a reflection on the commercial spirit of the occupants.

The Fire Department intends to erect a house for a hook and ladder company, on a lot owned by the department in East 176th st, and an engine house on Driggs av, near the Southern Boulevard, the site for which has also been purchased. The sum of $85,000 that was set apart for an engine house in Chambers st has been turned into the general fund.

The Thos. Krekeler Co., house wreckers and dealers in second-hand building materials, have for sale one and a-half million of good hard, second-hand brick, which they will also contract to deliver, having recently acquired a number of dump-carts of the latest design, with a capacity of 1,500 brick each. The Krekeler Co.'s address is 2280 Fulton st, Brooklyn; telephone 269 East New York.

Wall st, from Water st to East River, 69th st from Avenue A to East River, 99th st from West End av to Riverside Drive, St. Nicholas terrace, between 127th and 128th sts, and St. Nicholas av, between 124th and 155th sts are on the authorized list for new pavements. Wall st and 69th st will have sheet asphalt on old foundations, the others block asphalt on concrete foundation.

Work has now begun on what will be the most complete roundhouse on the Pennsylvania system, the $1,500,000 roundhouse and machine shops at Blair Furnace. The roundhouse, which will be a quarter of a mile in circumference, will contain fifty-two stalls, each of which will have an air hoist for lifting small materials, and an electric crane will travel the entire circumference of the building.

It is stated that the novel tunnel construction to be used by the Pennsylvania Company will prevent some contractors from bidding on the work intelligently. The tunnels are to be immense tubes buried in the bottom of the river, and supported on piers built on the rock. It may be that the contractors will be averse to binding themselves to a time limit under such conditions. The tunnel sections under the North and East Rivers will represent two contracts, and the section through Manhattan Island will be cut up and bids asked for each part separately.

An English plasterer who recently visited this country found many faults in American methods in building. In Washington, even in the room in which the President received the delegates, "the plastered walls were very poorly finished, although it is only fair to say that some decent work was to be found in the Congress House and Library." In New York: "The work was both good and bad; the latter could not be worse, but here let it be said that the good was on a par with our best. I rejoiced to find at least some real plastering, it being the first seen during my stay, either in Canada or the States."

The paving of the roadway of Fort Washington av, Washington Heights, with Telford macadam, from W. 181st st one mile north has been authorized by the Board of Estimate, at an expense of about $60,000, including curbing, no part of which is to be paid by the city. The section through which this thoroughfare passes is suburban, the estates are all large and the residents depend upon their own carriages as a means of reaching transportation lines, of which there are none in the immediate vicinity. The grades are too steep to permit the use of sheet asphalt pavement, and a stone block pavement would be out of place. Mr. Billings' costly stable is on this street.

The Building and Sanitary Inspection Company, and the Dwight Survey and Protection Bureau have merged, and the business of the latter company will be conducted by the Building and Sanitary Inspection Company in connection with its own engineering work. The Dwight Survey and Protcction Bureau has for many years been engaged in the survey of fire insurance risks, and the merger of the two companies materially strengthens the staff of the Building and Sanitary Inspection Company, and enables it to make inspections and rcports of a kind not heretofore undertaken by it. Recent work of the company includes the planning and supervision of plumbing in the Kings County Court House and New York Court House. In addition to structural and sanitary reports the company is now equipped to make all kinds of fire insurance surveys and reports on fire risks. Their offices are at 76 William st and telephone call 3257 John.

Three stories of steel columns are in place at the Hotel Knickerbocker, Broadway and 42d st, and two stores of front on three sides. At the Belmont Hotel, Park av and 41st st, all steel columns and girders are set. At the new public library on the west side of 5th av, the 42d st marble front is complete, but the 5th av and 41st st sides are only up to street level. The site for the Hotel Renaissance addition, 5th av, between 42d and 43d sts is being cleared. The new Custom House thus far consists of only one story of entire front and two stories of steel columns in place. No work has been done here for two months. The Hotel Flanders, on the north side of 47th st, between 6th and 7th avs, is up to the plastering, plumbering and mantles. The apartment hotel in 49th st, between 6th and 7th avs is receiving the hardwood and tile floors, and mantles. The Hotel St. Regis is in the hands of plasterers, elevator men, carpenters, marble workers and steamfitters.

The Labor Situation.

Stillness reigns over the almost deserted field of building operations at the week's end, but there is hope that a settlement is near. Under a new resolve a supreme effort is being made to end the conditions which made it possible for walking delegates to be absolute dictators and able to collect money for ordering strikes off. Early in the week the members of the Building Trades' Employers' Association notified their men that no more building material would be ordered until there should be a better understanding. No brick is now being sold for immediate use in this borough, which is the best sign that all new work is practically suspended; but there is still a good deal of jobbing going on among small contractors not members of the association, and much new construction in the suburbs.

"We have decided not to be annoyed any longer by walking delegates," said A. J. Robinson, a member of the Association, this week. "In spite of what they say, many of the unions are in favor of our plan of arbitration, and judging from what I have heard, they will all eventually accept it. It is for their advantage to do so."

William H. Farley, former secretady of the old Board of Building Trades, and one of the leaders of the new Board of Building Mechanics, on Monday said the unions would not accept the plan of arbitration. He said that the extension of the shutdown was devised to force the unions into accepting the plan of arbitration.

But since then the indications are that the leaders are being pressed by the men behind them to come to a reasonable agreement with the employers. The Board of Governors of the Building Trades Employers' Association passed the following resolution regarding the acceptance of its plan of arbitration by the unions in the building trades:

Be it Resolved, That when any union has caused to be submitted to this body a properly signed and sealed document accepting the plan of arbitration submitted to them, then the Board of Governors shall at once arrange to start work in that trade, and after the arbitration plan has been accepted by 75 per cent. of the unions in the building trade the Board of Governors will consider and pass on any changes that may be recommended by unions representing three or more trades.

A notable gain for the Employers' was the action of the George A. Fuller Co. in ordering its hoisting engineers to discontinue work. In explanation a representative of the company said:

"On many of our contracts some of the work is sub-let to employers who are members of the Building Trades Employers' Association. They were bound by the rules of the Building Trades Employers' Association and wanted to know whether we should exact the penalties provided in our contracts if they followed the order of the association. We decided to permit them to do so."

The order, which has been agreed to by the Hoisting Association stops all work where material was already on hand, including structural iron beams. The Emergency Committee allowed work to continue on three buildings. Leonard K. Prince, of the Board of Governors, said:

"We have decided that it will be useless to attempt to renew operations until we know exactly where we stand. In spite of the statement of the delegates of some of the unions that their bodies would not accept the scheme of arbitration which we propose, we know from individual letters we are in receipt of that the scheme has met with favor where it has been discussed."

The first union to accept the plan of arbitration is the inside architectural ironworkers. The Tile Layers' Union is expected to be next. It has decided to send a committee to confer with the employers' committee in relation to the arbitration plan, and the governors are confident of an early agreement.

Concerning Projections.

President Cantor has stationed a clerk at the Bureau of Buildings to receive applications for permits to erect bay windows and other projections, so that architects will hereafter not be required to apply to the Commissioner of Public Works, nor will it be necessary to file duplicate plans of those projections.

At this week's meeting of the Board of Aldermen the Committee of Buildings reported favorably on the ordinance amending the ordinance providing for the issuing of permits for the erection of bay windows projecting beyond the building line, so that permits may be issued for the continuance of now existing bay windows, and the report was approved, and the ordinance passed. The ordinance reads in part as follows:

A permit for the continuance of any now existing bay window which projects beyond the building line may be issued by the officer who, according to section 1 of this ordinance, has jurisdiction over the erection of bay windows at the same place. Application for such permit must be in writing and must be accompanied by a certified copy of the last assessed valuation of the property on which such bay window stands, which appears upon the books of the Department of Taxes and Assessments, and must also be accompanied by a survey showing the dimensions of such bay window and the number of stories through which it is carried. The application shall be accompanied by the amount of the compensation due the city for the privilege of continuing the bay window, calculated in the same manner and at the same rate as are provided in sections 2 and 3 of this ordinance. Permits shall be issued under this section without consent of adjoining property owners.

Beecher Park.

The proposed laying out of the block bounded by Orange, Hicks, Cranberry and Henry sts, surrounding but not including the property occupied by Plymouth congregation, has aroused enthusiasm in Brooklyn, inasmuch as it is proposed as a memorial to Henry Ward Beecher. The idea of making the church made famous by his eloquence the central figure in a beautiful park appeals strongly to many minds. Objection comes only from those who suspect selfish reason, or fancy that it would be conferring too great a distinction on Plymouth in the presence of other churches no less esteemed in the community. It seems to be understood that a part of the park space will be taken for a memorial building, and that its connection with the existing church will be more or less close. In view of this it is not impertinent to raise the question, as Engineer Lewis has done, if there are not other sites that would answer as well for a public park? Here, it is apprehended, an eye keenly discriminating might be needed to discern the dividing line between public and congregational interests. The assessed value of the property on the block, exclusive of Plymouth Church is $242,000.

Street Encroachments.

A decision which seems to answer the questions about stoops, areas, store fronts and all projections on city property, was rendered in the case of Ackerman vs. True, in regard to the rights of property owners to the use of the streets of the city:

"Although it is true that the title of the streets in the City of New York is in the municipality, that title is held by it in trust for public use, and not even the MUNICIPAL ASSEMBLY has authority to permit PERMANENT encroachment thereon. While that body may, by ordinance, regulate the use of streets, highways, roads, public places and sidewalks, and prevent encroachments upon and obstructions to the same, the charter expressly provides that "they shall have no power to authorize the placing or continuing of any encroachment or obstruction upon any street or sidewalk, except the temporary occupation thereof, during the erection or repairing of a building on a lot opposite the same."

"That the Legislature did not intend thereby to confer upon a member of the PARK BOARD the right to permit an abutting owner upon any of the streets of the city, whether within any park or outside, to encroach upon the streets by the erection of PERMANENT and SUBSTANTIAL STRUCTURES thereon. Moreover, if that statute were thus construed, its contitutionality would be at least doubtful, for even the Legislature cannot authorize the condemnation of private property for other than public uses. The effect of a construction which would permit the park board or any of its members to sell or give the right to obstruct the streets or highways therein, could not be otherwise than detrimental to and destructive to the interests of the municipaliy and its inhabitants."

Improved Water Front.

In 1897 the city acquired title to land required for laying out Exterior st, along the waterside, between East 64th and East 81st sts, seventeen blocks. The land is still mostly under water, as no physical improvements have been undertaken since, though a thoroughfare there would serve important purposes, as the East River bounds it essentially the whole distance. Recently the Local Board of Yorkville has taken up the matter, and the understanding is that the Department of Docks will co-operate with the Highway Bureau by building a retaining wall to sustain the fill. The work to be done by the highway department will include 4,088 ft. of curbing and 14,744 ft. of flagging, and the total cost, $115,760, will be assessed against the property benefited.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is convcyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbrcviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482, denote that the property is in section 2 block 482.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers, the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amouut. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage is drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

June 12, 13, 15, 16, 17 and 18.

Material Market.

BRICK.

Only about half the brick machines in the Hudson River district are working, and but few shipments have been made this week. When the tie-up was called off last Wednesday, no less than eighty boats were despatched to this market, of which about thirty remain unloaded. Practically no bricks are being laid in this borough, but some that were bought under contract are being stored. In Brooklyn building seems to have been resumed in nearly full measure, according to dealers' reports, and in the suburbs work is particularly brisk. Under the circumstances prices are low.

LUMBER.

Considerable work is going on in the metropolitan district, notwithstanding the builders' tieup, though it is divided among small builders and mechanics, and consists prinicpally of jobbing in town and small houses in the outskirts. After the yards reopened, which was on Wednesday, June 10, trade was brisk, but the new resolve of the Employers' Association, reinforced as it has been by the hoisting engineers, is reducing this activity, especially in Manhattan. As a rule, however, the smaller builders in the suburbs, where wooden construction is in vogue, have started up actively, with every indication that the boom which was in evidence in April and early in May before the strikes were inaugurated will again prove an important factor in the local movement of lumber. In the wholesale market there has been no weakening of prices, and not much change in the visible supply. With whitewood selling at fifty-two for ones and twos, and culls close to the twenty-five dollar mark, this item cannot be quoted as anything else than steady. No change is noted in hemlock locally, but in the New Jersey district it has been advanced fifty cents to a $17 basis. Chestnut is in good demand at the prices quoted elsewhere, and white ash has advanced.

Values on practically every item in the list have been maintained at or above the figures prevailing before the labor was begun, though it is not denied that stock has been accumulating at the mills.

The rigidity of lumber prices is sufficient evidence that there is an effective organization somewhere controlling or at least regulating the trade. Those who for the first time peruse the journal of the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association will decide that they have found the mainspring. Secretary George K. Smith, of St. Louis, has just issued his report of the last convention, from which we find that the national association in this trade has no individual membership, but is a body of representatives exclusively. Manufacturers not already affiliated can become so by taking membership in any association of lumber manufacturers in their respective localities, namely: Georgia Saw Mill Association, North Carolina Pine Association, Southern Lumber Manufacturers' Association, Mississippi Valley Lumbermen's Association, Hardwood Manufacturers' Association of the United States, Pacific Coast Lumber Manufacturers' Association, Wisconsin Valley Lumbermen's Association, and the Southern Cypress Lumbermen's Association. The work of establishing uniform terms of sale for all kinds of lumber as announced in the report, is being pushed vigorously. Another important feature is the Credit Rating Bureau, which is also treated of in the report.

Lumbermen are now able to estimate somewhat the damage done by the fires which recently swept through Eastern forests. The damage in the Adirondacks amounts to several million dollars, and Maine places her loss at $10,000,000. Most of the conflagrations were started by sparks from locomotives. The New York "Lumber Trade Journal" says the damage to young timber has been widespread, and it will be years before the woods can regain their previous condition, if at all. Through vast tracts of virgin forest the fires worked in the duff, burning from a foot to 18 ins. deep, leaving the roots of the trees exposed and so weakened that a heavy wind storm will work sad havoc. Reports received from Glens Falls are that eight townships in the State lands lying in Warren and Essex counties have been burned over. A conservative estimate places the burned area at 50,000 acres. In the Saranac River Valley, the State lands and private preserves suffered severe losses. From forty to fifty miles along the railroad on either side the country is one black mass for miles in width. The A. Sherman Lumber Co. report that during their thirty-five years of operations in the Adirondacks they have never witnessed so great destruction as this year. The International Paper Co. lost heavily on their land, south and west of Blue Lake, N. Y., 25,000 acres of which was destroyed. From Fulton Chain, W. S. De Camp and F. Cleveland, Jr., advise that upward of 20,000 acres were burned over.

South Brooklyn Improvements.

South Brooklyn's claims for better ferry facilities have been strengthened by the decision of the State Railroad Commission granting permission to the Bush Terminal Co. to construct its long desired electric railroad on 1st av, from 41st to 61st sts. In the memorandum accompanying the decision is the following paragraph:

Along the route there are now large manufactories and large piers; at these piers ocean-going vessels load and unload, and to and from the manufactories much freight is delivered. It is asserted by the applicant that other piers are under construction, and that other manufactories will be built. It is apparent from the evidence that a very considerable commercial development has already taken place here, and it is urged by the applicant and believed by this board that this construction will materially quicken and enlarge his development. It is also urged that persons having business in this locality who arrive from Manhattan via the Thirty-ninth Street Ferry will be convenienced by the operation of passenger cars on the proposed railroad to the piers and manufactories. The board believes also that this is true.

Between 41st and 52d sts the railroad will be built through the property of the Bush company, which has just completed several of a series of steel piers, which are the largest in the whole harbor of New York, each being 1,300 ft. long; and great quantities of merchandise are handled at these wharves. But besides this one terminal company a number of manufactories and other concerns will be accommodated by the railroad. Loaded freight cars are to be brought on floats from the various railroad terminals in the harbor to these South Brooklyn piers, where they will be transferred to the tracks of this new line and hauled direct to the factory or freight depot to which they may be consigned. Moreover, a connection with the Long Island Railroad will doubtless be arranged.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

Consumers of judgment always considered the Dyckerhoff Portland Cement the cheapest Cement in the market, though other brands were much lower in price, per barrel. The prevailing high prices for domestic Cements make the Dyckerhoff cheaper than ever. It is of absolute uniformity and reliability, which are the most important qualities desired in a Cement. No other brand has attained this perfection.

Vol. LXXI. JUNE 27, 1903. No. 1841.

THE man who can be wise about the present condition of the stock market and its immediate outcome possesses a fund of inspiration that is not available to the mau of ordinary endowment. It is, of course, easy to say that the market is dead, and leave the matter at that. Certainly the dullness that prevails is profound. One firm on the Street, with sixteen clerks, has had no occasion to touch its books for three days. This practical cessation of business is extremely costly, for it occurs not after a period of retrenchment, but suddenly, at the very moment when everything was rushing. The most obvious fact that remains to be noted after the dullness is that the market is likely to be for some time to come a weather market. It will no doubt continue to be such until the wheat crop is assured, thus leaving the corn crop as the only bridge to be crossed afterwards—two months later. One might guess, perhaps, that if the wheat crop be assured people will easily tire of the cautious side and will take chances as to the liabilities involved in getting over the corn bridge. Another fact that may be noted as a certainty possessing future implications is that the traffic of the railroads is being maintained, and this strengthens the assurance that the country has at last grown beyond its railroad accommodations and has quite reversed the situation that prevailed formerly. Finally, banking circles are of the opinion that the outward movement of gold is about ended. For the rest, guesses are in order.

IN selecting Mr. Charles F. McKim for the special honor of the King's gold medal the Royal Institute of British Architects has certainly chosen the man among living American architects who best deserved the distinction. Doutless the particular excuse for the selection was the fact that Mr. McKim was given the commission for renovating the White House, and did his work so admirably, admirably enough at least to arouse the disapprobation of the Congressional architectural critics; but apart from this particular piece of work, the firm of which Mr. McKim is a member occupies a unique positiou in the profession. Probably there are other firms whose work is quite as conspicuous, if not more so, for McKim, Mead & White select their jobs, and have for the most part avoided the designing of such buildings as "sky-scrapers." The point is, however, that during their whole period of practice their buildings, in spite of the enormous number which have been turned out, have exhibited in their designs more consistency of purpose, a greater freedom of design and a higher average measure of success than have those of any other firm of American architects. During that period they have experimented with many styles of design, some of which have proved to be mistakes; but even their mistakes have shown intelligence and taste, while their successes have exacted the tribute of a great deal of imitation from their brother architects. The consistency of their work has not been caused by the fact of their loyalty to any one particular style, but to the fact that throughout their whole career it has given the impression of being designed primarily to look well. We are aware that the firm is criticized for keeping the aesthetic point of view too exclusively in mind, for tending to subordinate important details of plan and structure to the exigencies of a good-looking facade; but this criticism, although doubtless it contains some force, expresses merely the reverse aspect of their greatest merit. They want to design good-looking buildings. They succeed in doing it. The good looks may cost the owner of the building something in the way of convenience or what not; but that is his lookout. The fact remains that their designs frequently possess undeniable charm and distinction, and that while they do what all the other leading architects are doing they do it better. Although they have avoided the extremes of the French manner, they have been thoroughly French in their devotion to good form. Perhaps the very best of their work is that known to only a few people, viz.: some of their private interiors; and perhaps it is in this direction also that they have been most original. The material used in the decoration of the contemporary expensive private residence are for the most part the rich fabrics, furniture and other spoils of Italian and French palaces, and there is no American designer who has approached another member of this firm in his ability to combine these old materials in a way that both brings out their full decorative value and yet produces somehow a new and idiomatic effect. Altogether it may fairly be said that when the architectural history of the last generation comes to be written McKim, Mead & White will occupy a bigger place than any other single individual or firm, except Mr. H. H. Richardson.

EVER since the Greater New York was consolidated there has scarcely been a really desirable public improvement which has not been delayed in its consummation by the action of the Board of Aldermeu. This was true of the subway; it was true of the Pennsylvania tunnel; it is now proving to be true of the new bridges, and it has been true of many minor but very necessary public improvements. The attempt which is being made by that body to delay the construction of the new bridges is as bad politics as it is adverse to the public interests. Many thousands of residents of Manhattan and Brooklyn understand fully what a boon the Manhattan bridge will be to both of these boroughs. The line of this bridge is practically parallel to the present Brooklyn bridge, and it will consequently be of much more immediate use to the traveling public than the Williamsburgh bridge will be. The delay of every month means additional inconvenience to travelers and loss to hundreds of real estate owners; but in spite of these facts the Board of Aldermen expects in some inexplicable way to gain a political advantage by holding up the bonds which are to pay for the structure. Moreover, it is significant that the grounds on which fault is found with the plants for the Manhattan bridge are related to the most excellent aspects of those plans. All good judges are agreed that the steel structures which carry the roadway of the Williamsburgh bridge are extremely ugly; and consequently Commissioner Liudenthal made a particular effort to alter the plans of the Manhattan bridge for the purpose of improving the appearance of the piers. To this end he called a competent architect to his assistance; and the new plans produced by means of this collaboration promise the erection of a very beautiful structure. It is not too much to say, as Mr. Frederick Lamb says in the current number of "House and Garden," that the commissioner has achieved in connection with Messrs. Palmer and Hornbostel, "a veritable architectural triumph." The triumph is all the more remarkable because the great modern steel bridges all over the world have been hitherto anything but admirable in design, and because consequently the architects were obliged to depend upon their own ingenuity for the general idea back of their plan. These plans, if they are carried out, promise to effect something like a revolution in bridge architecture and to serve as a valuable precedent for the treatment of bridges as, what in truth they are, architectural monuments. Yet it is just this aspect of the plans which the Board of Aldermen are opposing. They are the enemies of the light in every instance and on any excuse.

The time seems to have come in the conflict between the employers and the employed in the building trades for a strong third party to offer friendly offices, with a view of bringing to an end a dispute which by its magnitude and long continuance is inflicting hardships upon the community.

ALL of the dozen architects or architectural firms which have been invited to submit designs for the new Borough Hall of Brooklyn are residents of that borough; and we must say that the restriction of competitors to inhabitants of Brooklyn seems in this case to be particularly absurd and unnecessary. The principal of inviting only local architects to share in such a competition is a doubtful one, even when the locality is well defined; but in the present case Brooklyn as a local area of habitation is really a part of a larger whole, and cannot be cut off from the rest of the city. A number of the firms which have been selected merely because one or more of the partners are inhabitants of a Brooklyn house are really Manhattan architects. Their offices are situated in that borough, and the great mass of their work is performed for clients who live in that borough. To select such men over others who have as good or a better claim on the score of merit, merely because the former sleep in Brooklyn, is an exhibition of the merest parochialism. The only consolation is that Brooklyn will probably get under such circumstances as bad a building as it deserves.

The Successes and Failures of the Revised Charter.

WHEN the recent revision of the charter of the Greater New York was under discussion much concern was expressed lest the changes which were made in the constitution of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment should injure the efficiency of that all-important body. It was feared, for instance, that the presence of merely local representatives on the Board might encourage log-rolling and combinations for political and local purposes among the members of the Board. These fears have proved groundless. The fact that it consists entirely of elected officials, several of them representing the separate boroughs, has not, at least under the present administration, done anything to injure the efficiency of the Board. It still acts practically as a unit in all important matters; it has steadily shown that excellent judgment and taken those broad and sound views of public questions which have in the past made it such a useful and popular commission. The tendency is to increase rather than restrict its functions; and it is more than ever coming to occupy a position analogous to the board of directors of a bank or a railway corporation. It determines, so far as the Legislature permits, the general financial policy of the city, and the Mayor and the departments merely carry out its decisions.

Another innovation in the revised charter, which has not worked so well, is the increased powers and more independent position granted to the Borough Presidents. The idea was to recognize the diversity of the Greater New York by giving these local officials effective control over local improvements and the unruly local administrative officers. Well, it was undoubtedly a good thing to organize these local services under one head, but we cannot help thinking that these Borough Presidents should be appointed by the Mayor, rather than elected by popular vote. The existing method of choosing them makes them an anomaly in the local administrative system. Their duties are purely executive, and yet they are not responsible to the Mayor and cannot be controlled by him. They break up the system of graduated and concentrated responsibility, which has been introduced into the other departments, and prevent the Mayor from exercising any influence over some of the most important executive acts of the government. Moreover, the degree of responsibility which the Borough Presidents would feel towards him if appointed would exceed the degree of responsibility they now feel toward their constituents when elected. They know very well that their re-elections depend much more upon the general political situation and upon the record of the Mayor and the higher officials of the administration than it does upon their personal records. They will survive or perish as part of the whole administration, and there is consequently no good reason for making them exceptions in the general rule of a graded and concentrated responsibility. We cannot help believing that in course of time serious complications will result from giving these local officials their present independence, and that in this respect the charter will eventually be changed.

The revisers of the charter desired particularly to make the machinery for pushing local improvements more efficient than it was under their old instrument; and to this end they abolished the old Board of Public Improvements and distributed its functions among local improvement boards and other more general administrative bodies. It must be admitted, however, that so far as street improvements go, this machinery has worked very badly. A local board is an extremely inefficient device for dealing with any improvement which is of general public effect and importance. The neighborhood property owners naturally have their attention exclusively concentrated on their own interests; they are rarely able to reach any agreement with their neighbors as to what they want, and the meetings of the boards are consumed in small squabbles and inaction. It can be safely predicted that New York will never succeed in meeting the grave and inexorable problems connected with its antiquated street system through a machinery in which local boards play a prominent part. General public interests must control the disposition of these problems, and public officials representing the whole city must make the important decisions, unchecked by the sluggish action and petty ideas of local boards. We do not say that the Board of Public Improvements will be revived; but it is obvious that some general commission, analogous to the Rapid Transit Commission, must be constituted to deal with the changes in street lines which are becoming yearly more pressingly necessary in Manhattan.

Finally, the attempt of the charter revisers to rehabilitate the Board of Aldermen has been an unequivocal failure. Whenever it has had any chance to interfere it has proved to be a clog upon the administrative machine; its action has been dictated by the meanest local considerations and the pettiest political motives. It is a curious illustration of the abiding influence of time-honored governmental conventions that these continual attempts are made to restore to the Board of Aldermen some of the powers which it has misused in the past. As a matter of fact it has no place in such a mechanism as that of the present New York charter. Foreign cities are really governed by their common councils, the committees of which do much of the work performed in New York by such bodies as the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and the Rapid Transit Commission. But when all the important decisions are left in the hands of responsible commissioners there is nothing left for the Board of Aldermen to do but to act as a check upon these commissions, and surely never was a veto power more misplaced or more utterly misused. It is merely made an excuse for stubborn and incessant obstruction, which is pushed just as far as public opinion will tolerate. It is inconceivable that a body, which has so completely lost public confidence in the past and which has shown itself incapable of reform, will be for many years allowed to keep the important powers it now possesses.

Real Estate Situation.

The real estate market is doubtless seasonably dull; but it probably seems duller than it really is. Speculative operations, whether by real estate companies or individuals, have been reduced to a minimum because speculators cannot afford to take any chances on a situation so uncertain as the shut-down of building makes the existing situation. On the other hand, a fair number of sales continue to be reported, and an unusually large number take place which escape publication. It is extraordinary also how consistently the number of transfers recorded keeps ahead of last year—the biggest year in the history of New York. During the past five weeks, for instance, the conveyances have increased from 1,360 for the corresponding period of 1902 to 1,575 for 1903. The percentage of increase is almost 15, which is difficult to explain, considering the many causes making for conservatism on the part of speculators. The building figures are beginning to show a very considerable falling off from the corresponding totals of 1902; but this is not surprising in view of the existing prospects for an early resumption of building. There will be an abundance of work to be done just as soon as the employers and their men can reach some proper basis for working together. The loss caused by the continuation of the shut-down is very large, and will mean the ruin of many builders unless their creditors are lenient and give them a chance to complete their buildings. But we have never heard of a building loan operator yet who was disposed to be lenient. There is nothing to be done for the present but to grin and bear it. In the end the speculative builders have as much to gain from an improvement of labor conditions as have the contractors and the material dealers. If the employers can only force the unions to cease arbitrary and sympathetic strikes and to consent to a permanent arbitration agreement it will mean that speculative builders can count with much greater assurance that their buildings will be completed by a certain date. This, of course, is poor consolation for a man who is gradually being forced to the wall, but at least it is all the consolation he is likely to get.

Speculative Dullness.

The private sales reported this week are, generally speaking, a fair example of the business of the past month. Brokers generally complain of a sudden falling-off in business, but a comparison with the same week last year shows a difference of only three sales, and that in favor of this year. There is a slight difference in distribution compared with the same week last year, when there were twenty-seven sales south of 59th st as against twenty-one for this present week and twenty-nine north of that street as against thirty-eight for 1903. There are no sales reported that warrant special mention, the business being almost entirely confined to flats and tenements. There is practically no business being done in property suitable for improvement, the week's announcements being confined to two plots both north of 59th st.

The sale this week at auction by Joseph P. Day of properties on West 32d and 37th sts, served to draw the bargain-hunters to the room. They were, however, disappointed, the only outside buyer being the Stuyvesant Real Estate Co. The remainder of the property was bought by parties in interest at prices which were entirely beyond the reach of outsiders.

THERE is one branch of building in which the figures for the present year show a large decrease from the figures of the year before. We refer to filings for private dwellings. So far during the present year there have been plans filed for only 36 residences to be erected in Manhattan at a cost of $2,041,000. During the corresponding period of last year there were plans filed for 94 residences to be erected at an estimated cost of $3,989,000. This is a decrease of almost a third in the number of dwellings for which plans have been filed and a decrease of about a half in the estimated cost. Some decrease was to be expected; but the amount of the falling off is exceedingly large, and testifies to a distinct change of conditions affecting this class of property. During 1901 and 1902 large numbers of expensive dwellings were erected by speculative builders as well as private owners, and of these a very fair proportion still remains unsold. The consequence is that speculative builders have almost abandoned the field, and are merely trying to dispose of their present holdings, a process which is made all the more difficult because the demand for expensive residences has decreased and because the people who want such buildings seem to have a more frequent intuition to have them designed by architects of their own selection. The decrease in the demand for such residences is due to the fact that rich people are not so prosperous as they were a year or two ago, and because they have for the present ceased to immigrate to New York. As to the growing disposition of those who do want residences to build them according to their own ideas, that is an obvious consequence of the greater fastidiousness which is beginning to prevail both among the very rich and the moderately well-to-do. Only five out of the twenty-three dwellings which are to be erected east and south of the Central Park from plans filed during the first half of the present year, will be put up by speculative builders. Usually the proportion of the one to the other is just about the other way around. As to the West Side, the erection of dwellings in that section has practically ceased, plans having been filed for only four of them during the first six months of this year. Neither is Harlem any better off in this respect. It remains to be seen how much of a return to earlier conditions will be made on Washington Heights.

The Labor Situation.

The spectacle of workmen rallying to the standard of a man under indictment for henious offenses and at large only by the grace of bondsmen wounds the best instincts of honest labor. But there is this hope, that this perilous hour will bring forward men of higher motives, better fitted to represent the mechanics and laborers of New York in the presence of their employers and the public. It is unfortunately true that the best part of any collective body needs to be stirred to the top. The disgrace which is descending upon the mechanics of New York because of the folly of their leaders ought to stir up the best manhood among them to take the direction of. their affairs. Under a tactful and yet manly guidance of their cause, and a no less intelligent leadership on the other side, the interests of real estate and building in this city might hope for an immediate ending of this distressful and now entirely unwarranted situation.

The consolidation into one central body again of all the unions of the city, the skilled with the unskilled, should be advantageous for peace negotiations, even if otherwise regrettable. All the latest occurrences and transactions have tended to a concentration of forces, especially on the labor side. All union workmen in the building trades are to be called out under the present program, to insist upon a restoration of the old order of things, when the walking delegates, led by the now notorious "Sam" Parks, dominated the building work of the American metropolis.

To facilitate the return of the seceding unions to the old board, the Drivers and Handlers have said they will leave it. Presumably this course is taken on the understanding that the agreement which the mechanics made with the Dealers in Masons' Building Materials, and also with the Lumber Dealers, will be respected by the united body. This leaves the Dealers out of the fight, as they have gained and will still hold all that they contended for. Virtually, then, the return of the seceders to the old camp and their retirement therefrom is taken to mean the complete surrender of the unions so far as the Dealers in materials are concerned.

John Tasker, of the Board of Building Trades' Mechanics, said that the board had not yet been officially notified that the Building Material Drivers and Building Material Handlers' Unions had left the old board. "We cannot break our agreement with the Lumber and Building Material Dealers' Associations," said Tasker in explanation. "We promised as a condition of their yards being reopened after the shutdown that we would not recognize these unions"

However, the Board of Building Trades' Mechanics have for the past two days been working in harmony with Sam. Parks's board in calling out the men of both bodies who were still at work for members of the Employers' Association in cases where it is said forfeiture clauses in contracts compel continuance of building operations. But the work of contractors not members of the Assocation is not to be disturbed. It is now declared that the struggle can only end in two ways, either in the individual employers breaking away from their association and forfeiting their bonds, or in the walking delegates being cast out. Thus, the whole matter may be said to resolve itself into a fight for the retention or obliteration of the high powers of the Walking Delegates. The men who have been ordered from their necessary labors should pause and ask themselves if "Sam" Parks is a representative worth fighting for.

VIEWS OF EMPLOYERS.

Mr. L. K. Prince, of the Building Trades Employers' Association, when speaking with a representative of the Record and Guide, said early in the week: "We think the arbitration plan, as offered to the mechanics by the Building Trades Employers' Association, is the logical solution of the difficulties which have beset the building industry and caused so much embarrassment and financial loss to the investor, the contractor and the workmen.

"It has been evolved after careful deliberation, and is what might be termed a PERPETUAL PEACE PLAN, in which the interests of both contractor and mechanic are carefully preserved and protected, and should be a guarantee to the investor that in the future there shall be no interruptions or delays in the completion of buildings under construction through labor disputes; through this arbitration plan all strikes will be practically avoided.

"The fact that twenty-seven Trade Associations in the building industry have already subscribed to this arbitration plan, and the names of the members of the Board of Governors representing these trades should be a sufficient guarantee to the reading public of the integrity and stability of our action, especially as each individual member of these different associations has voluntarily bonded himself to abide by this plan."

Mr. J. E. Wells, of Wells Bros. & Co., said: "We are not members of the Employers' Association, but are in harmony. The stand they have taken as regards arbitration we regard as very reasonable. Employe and employer would find it mutually beneficial. Here in New York they are going through the same operation which we went through at Chicago in 1900. The New York builders have been obliged to ask for the same thing that the Chicago builders asked for, namely, the elimination of the walking delegate. The result in Chicago was the granting of the builders' request, and each year since then the same contracts have been renewed, showing that the arrangement is satisfactory to both parties. No strikes are now ordered by walking delegates in Chicago, and there are no sympathetic strikes. Indeed, very few strikes of any kind have occurred since. No strikes can be declared until the matter has been the subject of arbitration proceedings."

Johnson-Kahn Company, of 500 5th av, said they had not investigated the labor situation closely, "having enough to do to take care of the jobs we have under way."

Dawson & Archer, 150 5th av, said: "All we can say is that we are stopped. But work seems to be going on among small builders outside of the Association."

An industrious carpenter at a new West Side store and apartment building said that his firm had permission to continue work until their material was used up. When the tleup was ordered they had four carloads.

A dealer in front brick said: "The large builders in Manhattan are idle, but a good many men are kept at work by speculative builders, especially in the Bronx. In Brooklyn work proceeds without hindrance."

The plasterers' helpers have shared the common fate of strikers this year. They insisted on the impossible till their employers made an agreement with another union of helpers, which was ratified on Wednesday night. The plasterers themselves served notice on the old helpers some weeks ago that they would after a certain number of days receive material from anybody if the helpers didn't come to terms. Now, when it is too late the helpers' leaders are anxious to do this. The new agreement is for a stated perlod and is based on the former schedule.

The Plain and Ornamental Operative Plasterers' Society, who last fall were granted a raise of wages, have taken a strange turn. At a meeting this week they voted against going to work under any but strict union conditions as they existed before the shut-down. A comimttee of two was appointed to go to Philadelphia, Pittsburg, and other cities and tie up all the plastering work on all contracts of McNulty Brothers, who are sub-contractors for the George A. Fuller Company. A meeting will be held on Sunday, at 57th st and 3d av, to unite the Plasterers Laborers' Society and the Italian Plasterers Laborers' Protective Union.

From reports to dealers in masons' building materials it is apparent that but little business is being done in Manhattan; but more in the Bronx, though the aggregate is not large. Lumber dealers, however, especially in the suburbs, report considerable business. The odds and ends of work observable through Manhattan do not require much material. A building firm who had men at work on Monday on the foundations of a large mercantile structure said that the work would stop in a very few days, as the firm desired to act in harmony with other builders.

The bricklayers are working when they can, though now without a written agreement with their employers. It is expected, however, that one will be signed presently at the old rates, though at one time the men refused better terms. At a recent meeting of joint committees from the Employers' Association and the Bricklayers' unions, a vote was taken by the operatives on the proposition to accept the arbitration proposition. The negative won by ten votes, but it is believed that had the ballot been a secret one, there would have been a different result.

A general strike of all trades in the old board went into effect on Thursday, against the members of the Employers' Assocation. It is also the intention of the skilled mechanics who are organized as the Board of Building Trades' Mechanics, to take similar action to go into effect Monday. This of itself does not mean necessarily an amalgamation of the two boards, though both will work in harmony so far as fighting the present policy of the employers is concerned.

At the headquarters of the Building Trades' Employers' Association, 1123 Broadway, it was stated that the Amalgamated Wood Workers' Union, the members of which make wood trim for buildings, but do not work on the buildings, had agreed to the plan of arbitration.

Great Central Bridge and Rail Station.

STATUS OF CONSTRUCTION WORK FOR BRIDGES AND ARRANGEMENTS FOR CAR SERVICE—WAITING FOR FUNDS.

Six great bridges are at this time under construction by the City of New York. With the co-operation of present and prospective rail connections they will revolutionize traffic and transform suburbs to a degree that the imagination can scarcely picture. Besides the two suspension and one cantilever bridges for the East River, the others under construction are the Vernon Avenue Bridge, at the mouth of Newtown Creek, the Lenox Avenue Bridge over the Harlem, and the Pelham Park Bay Bridge.

The rail connections for the Williamsburgh Bridge are the propositions now receiving the principal attention of the Department of Bridges, and the probability is that a continuous train transportation system will extend from Broadway, in Williamsburgh, to the Battery, in Manhattan, carrying passengers over the whole route for two cents. This will be the moving platform system, equal to fourteen trolley tracks, which the Bridge Commissioner thinks will do more for the expansion of north Brooklyn than any other method of carriage that can be conceived of. It is also proposed, one might say intended, to extend the elevated railroad service from Williamsburgh over the bridge and down the Bowery to the City Hall, where a union station of immense proportions will rise at the entrance to the Brooklyn Bridge, to shelter as well the elevated trains from south Brooklyn, and also the elevated trains from the Manhattan and Blackwell's Island bridges. The continuous railroad is expected to have sub-station beneath the Brooklyn Bridge terminal, where travelers for Richmond will enter, for at the Battery this road will connect with the new ferry service to Staten Island that is now being arranged for. One station for all bridges! The centre from which every borough in Greater New York can be most easily and quickly reached! May the public not look for an appropriate edifice to cover and crown this magnificent work?

The Board of Aldermen having manifested some intention of deliberating an exceedingly long time before authorizing the appropriation necessary for the continuance of construction of the Manhattan Bridge, the Mayor on Tuesday sent over an intimation that more alacrity would be appreciated. The contract forms and specifications have been printed and bids will be invited as soon as the appropriation is passed. Thus far the Brooklyn tower foundation has been contracted for and completed, and has been accepted by the city. The Manhattan tower foundation has been contracted for with J. H. Rodgers, the builder of the other foundation; the caisson that will go there has been launched, and the site for it in the river bed is being dredged. Surmounting these foundations will be pedestals on which the steel towers will rest, and the contract for these has been let, also to the same man. For the anchorages land on both sides of the river has been acquired.

Many features of Manhattan Bridge will be pleasant surprises for the public, however much they may have read about the wonderful structure. The clear-cut beauty of the steel towers will appeal to all beholders. Most structural steelwork is ugly; this will be different. Single shafts of steel, round and symmetrical, will form the corners of the towers, and the bracing will at a distance seem light and graceful, though the bridge will be by far the heaviest and strongest ever put together.

Four chain cables of nickel steel eyebars will hold up a double-decked structure 124 ft. wide, so rigid and strong that if one end should be barricaded and all the loaded cars that could get on the bridge, and all the trucks that could be jammed into the roadways with all the goods they could carry, and finally a division of troops massed solidly in all the footways, there would not be the slightest tremor or motion in the bridge. Not only will the anchorages be pierced to let the interscecting streets pass through them, but each anchorage will contain an auditorium larger than Carnegie Hall or Cooper Union, besides public comfort stations, six elevators, stairways and shelter rooms. The auditorium will be at once a neighborhood forum and a place of entertainment. Instead of making the neighborhood a waste, the influence on property of the anchorages is expected to be beneficial; instead of obstructions they will be thoroughfares and resorts.

Space under the Manhattan end of the Williamsburgh Bridge will be utilized by the City for a fire-engine house, probably a municipal court, certainly a fish market to cover three blocks, little parks for children, and maybe a kindergarten. Similar things will be done for the Brooklyn anchorages. Heretofore these have been impenetrable and uninviting masses of masonry; hereafter the whole area will be open. More than ninety per cnt. completed now, the Williamsburgh Bridge will be quite ready in the early winter. When the Pennsylvania Steel Company has finished with the superstructure, R. H. Hood & Co. will begin the steel underflooring, and the pavement is next in order.

The Newtown Creek Bridge will be finished in the course of one year. Being of the lift type, it will be a vast improvement over the old drawbridge, though Commissioner Lindenthal has said that he personaly preferred a tunnel. The Pelham Bay Park Bridge over Eastchester Bay is situated in a park that will yet rival Central Park, and out of respect to its surroundings is to be particularly handsome. The superstructure of the Lenox Avenue Bridge over the Harlem cannot be erected until the adjacent part of the Rapid Transit tunnel is finished. The contract for the superstructure and towers of the Blackwell's Island Bridge will be given out in one contract when the Aldermen make the appropriation over which they are now deliberating.

Tunnel Work Begins.

The actual work of constructing the Pennsylvania tunnels has at last been started. On Wednesday noon the United Engineering and Contracting Company, of 21 Park row, began digging the first shaft, near the corner of 32d st and 11th av.

The United Engineering and Construction Company has received contracts for two shafts, one to be on the Jersey shore. The site of the Manhattan shaft is in the rear of the former Cooper-Wiegand-Cooke foundry, which the Pennsylvania Company has purchased, and exactly in the cellar of the house which one Dinean had leased and refused to vacate for a time, though a clause in his lease provided for the premises being taken for public or corporation purposes. This, with the adjoining building, has been torn down.

The surface dimensions of the shaft are 30 by 22 ft., and the depth will be 65. When the foot of the shaft is reached the same contractor will start driving the two tunnels toward the west and will proceed about 50 ft. under the present order. In all probability a further contract will be assigned to the United Engineering and Contracting Company, but this is all it has at present.

The plan of the tunnels here show two borings of ordinary description, with perpendicular sides and arched roof, each 10 ft. high and 10 ft. wide in the clear, and 10 ft. apart on the same level. If ever the traffic should outgrow these dimensions it will be possible to throw the two passages into one or excavate a third between the two. The first work is in solid rock of the nature called tight, in which there seems to be no crevices for water to trickle through. Rising almost to the surface of the ground, the rock is most kindly disposed, and the operation is thus far, and may long continue to be, the simplest mechanics. Between the shaft and the river bulkhead is a space of 1,225 ft, which is crossed by 11th and 12th avs and occupied in part for railroad purposes. This will be a busy region until the great work shall be finished, for all the debris from long sections of the tunnel will be brought to the surface through this shaft. The one on the Jersey shore will be larger, having surface dimensions of 180 by 86 ft. and a depth of 74 ft.

The beginning of this important work on Wednesday noon was signalized by the presence of Chief Engineer Jacobs and members of his staff, together with other engineers interested in departments of the work, and representatives of the Pennsylvania Company. As the operations progress there will be ample opportunity for discussion of their technical features, processes, and architectural effects, but for awhile, judging from the reticence of the principals, it is fancied that there is experience to be gained before a final decision upon some of the most interesting portions of the work can be made.

The week was marked by the beginning of another part, the clearing of the site of the terminal, which will have an area of some 18,000 by 500 ft., between 7th and 9th avs. C. H. Southard, a dealer in second-hand materials, has the contract for disposing of 29 of the buildings, and may yet undertake many more, as no other firm has yet been assigned to join in the work of demolition, which is not likely to be hurried. The buildings have been mostly occupied ever since title was transferred, and it is said the railroad company has been an easy landlord. The four blocks contain some three hundred buildings, the last of which were acquired this week. On the East River side several more pieces of property have also been added this week to the company's holdings, but no mechanical work has yet been started on that shore.

Tax Rate Reduced.

The tax budget for the next fiscal year is to be $97,119,031, exclusive of the regular applications for bond issues, which will amount to about $40,000,000. From this there is a deduction of approximately $12,500,000 for the general fund and another of $8,500,000 under the new sinking fund law. With this total deduction of about $21,000,000 there will be but $76,000,000 in round figures to be raised by taxation, or about $10,000,000 less than last year.

A statement issued by Commissioner Strasbourger sets forth that there is a gain of $1,400,000,000 in the assessed value of real estate in the greater city. These assessments, which will become operative July 1, show from two and one-half to three times the normal annual increase, and, as the bonded indebtedness of the city is limited by law to 10 per cent. of the assessed valuations of property, there may be issued $140,000,000 of additional bonds for improvement purposes.

"Real property values for 1903 will reach the grand total of $4,730,000,000, as against $3,330,000,000 for 1902. Personal property also has risen tremendously, going up from $525,000,000 in 1902 to $678,000,000, the increase in assessments averaging 37 per cent., while the increase in real property assessments averages 40½ per cent. The personal property assessment is considerably above the early estimates of the Tax Department, which placed it at $600,000,000, and of the $153,000,000 increase over the year before, $125,000,000 comes from Manhattan and the Bronx. Richmond Borough fell off somewhat, while Brooklyn and Queens remained about stationary. The real estate assessments are a little below the tentative figures, which placed the total assessed valuation at $26,000,000 more than actually has been found. This was due to errors made by the assessors in their early figures, one error of $4,100,000 being found on one block of property.

"In the personal property taxes it is noteworthy that some 2,000 more corporations than heretofore are on the list."

The Commissioner said personally: "I believe we are to have less and less difficulty with personal taxes. Our tax rate this year will be $1.40, as against $2.27 last year. We are gradually getting down to a better system of taxation, but it will take two or three years more before we have matters in really good shape. When we get the tax rate worked down to something under $1, which I think can be done with personal property paying its proper share and with real property equitably assessed we shall have far greater receipts from personal taxes than at the present time.

"Under the present assessment the burden will not fall upon those men who for years have been paying taxes on a proper assessed valuation. It will fall on those who in former years have had friends at court and who by these means have escaped with paying on about 50 per cent. of the real value of their property."

From the point of view of the taxpayer, the tax rate of $1.40 will make his tax bill in proportion to his assessed valuation lower than it ever has been before. True, there are a large number of properties which heretofore were undervalued, and in these cases the tax bills will be higher in dollars and cents; but the great majority of bills will be lower than ever before. The administration has therefore kept its early promise that the average tax bill should be reduced, and for this it deserves the gratitude of the community. The figures may be thus summarized:

|---|---|
| Real estate assessments, 1903 | $4,730,000,000 |
| Real estate assessments, 1902 | 3,330,000,000 |
| Increase | $1,400,000,000 |
| Personal assessments, 1903 | 678,000,000 |
| Personal assessments, 1902 | 525,000,000 |
| Increase | $153,000,000 |
| Total increase in assessed values | $1,553,000,000 |
| Tax rate, 1902 | $2.27 |
| Tax rate, 1903 (estimated) | 1.40 |

The Jummel Place for a Park.

As a Revolutionary relic it is said of the Jummel mansion that it is the only building in the city which has come down to us without alterations. New York has made a good deal of the old place in song and story, but a critic severe and unconventional might strip the legends to a few slender facts. During the summer of 1776 Washington had headquarters here, not constantly but at various times. Built by Roger Morris, a British colonel who was stationed in this province, the place was occupied by his family until the beginning of hostilities in this quarter, when it was taken by the Continental troops. The property went into litigation between the American and French claimants, and on November 14, 1882, was sold by order of the Supreme Court, partition sale by Philo T. Ruggles, as referee, and after passing through several purchasers, is now owned by Lillie J. Earle, wife of General Ferdinand P. Earle.

The Local Board of Washington Heights has selected the place for a public park, as it commands a fine view of the Harlem River, and the matter is now before the Board of Estimate for approval. The estimated value of the property is $157,125. The dimensions are 364x168x172x359x168, the total area amounting to 67,391 sq. ft., or about 27 city lots of 25x100 ft.

The State has never seen the importance of acquiring this property for its historical value, or else has preferred that the city should assume the responsibility of maintenance. To fully enjoy the benefits of such a possession, a Board of Trustees should be appointed, and the mansion should be made the depository and casket of authenticated and approved relics of the Revolution. Care in making the collection would give the "headquarters" a place in public esteem that it might not otherwise possess.

Questions and Answers.

OWNERSHIP.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

If a house which is foreclosed and knocked down at the Real Estate Exchange Auction Rooms to the highest bidder, contains ice boxes, carpets, gas fixtures and sideboards that are not fastened to the walls, but movable, has the party who has had the property go under foreclosure the right to remove, sell, or dispose of the above-named articles, before the purchaser has taken title to the property? The house was advertised as house and lot with improvements thereon, and sold as such by the auctioneer.

Answer.—Yes.—Law Editor.

BUILDER AND MERCHANT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

We send you a Real Estate decision, which we cut from the "Journal of Commerce." It seems to us absolutely wrong, and entirely contrary to other decisions, as the broker was the procuring cause of the business, and was entitled to be paid and could legally collect it. Please take the matter up in your next issue and tell us your views of it.

(NEW YORK, May 20, 1903.—A broker is told by a merchant that he desires to lease a business building for his own occupancy. The broker endeavors unsuccessfully to find a suitable building and then proposes to the merchant to have erected for and leased to him a satisfactory building. The broker states the facts to a builder and introduces the builder to the merchant for such purpose. After negotiating for nearly a year a contract is made under which the builder is to erect a building and lease it for ten years to the merchant. Is the broker, who has done no work other than to introduce the two parties, entitled to a commission from the builder on this transaction, and, if so, how much? M. T.

Reply.—The facts stated by our correspondent are not alone sufficient to entitle the broker to a commission from the builder. There was no express contract of employment, and such services as the broker has rendered the builder is merely introducing him to the merchant by whom the broker was approached in the first place, are not sufficient to raise an implied contract on the part of the builder to pay commissions. The customary commission in cases of this kind, where any remuneration at all has been earned, is 1 per cent. upon the gross rental for the whole term (ten years in this case), payable in full when the first instalment of rent is paid.—Journal of Commerce.)

Answer: The case of Lloyd v. Matthews, 65 N. Y. 124, holds that to entitle a real estate broker to compensation it is sufficient that a sale is effected through his agency as its procuring cause, and this commission is earned even though the broker does not negotiate and is not present at the sale. This decision is followed in Sussdroff v. Schmidt, 55 N. Y. 319; in Sibbald v. Bethlehem Iron Co., 83 N. Y. 378; in Baker v. Thomas, 11 Miscellaneous 112; and in O'Toole v. Tucker 16, Miscellaneous 485. These cases upon the same principle would seem to apply to a lease of real estate as well as to a sale of real estate and the fact that the building was yet to be built ought not to reverse what has been so repeatedly held.—Law Editor.

COMMISSION IN THE BRONX.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly decide the following point regarding broker's commission for sale of property in the Borough of Bronx. No previous arrangements having been made, the brokers who sold a piece of property on University Heights claim 2½% commission for their services. The owner holds that this being within the city limits the correct commission is 1%. Which is correct?

OWNER AND BROKER.

Answer.—It is a question of the law merchant in the absence of previous agreement, and therefore regulated by the customary charges of brokers for that vicinity. We believe the customary commission in the Borough of the Bronx to be 1%.—Law Editor.

SEWER AND WATER CONNECTIONS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

May I suggest that you enlighten the builders of New York City as to the cost of sewer and water connections: (1) Does a permit to connect carry with it the size of pipe, and (2) does it cost more to connect with a 12-inch drain pipe than a 6-inch drain pipe? (3) Are the rules printed on the backs of the water bills binding equally upon the property-holder and city? In short, (4) does a written notice to the department of a violation of any of the rules exempt the property-holder from such expense as the violation may cause? The Charter is a crazy, bungling piece of work, containing 155 pages, of which 154 ought to be eliminated and that which is left boiled down to a good common sense consistency and printed in the Record and Guide weekly. A SUBSCRIBER.

Answer.—(1) As regards water, the permit for tap specifies the size of the tap. As for sewer, yes. (2) Yes; but before a permit would be granted, you would have to show the required number of feet in the building. (3) The rules are binding upon the property-owner, but the Commissioner makes the rules and therefore has the right to change them at any time. Of course, the Commissioner cannot change any of the provisions of the Charter or the ordinances of the Board of Aldermen. (4) This cannot be answered without full statement of all the facts, so that the Department could make an investigation and if necessary refer the matter to the Corporation Counsel.

—President Cantor's favorite project, the extension of Riverside Drive, is to be advanced immediately, and bids are now advertised for. New plans have been prepared for the construction of the driveway on lines different from those laid down in the statute north of 152d st, which will make a continuous river drive from 72d st north to Dyckman, or about 210th sts—a driveway which, it is believed, will have no equal anywhere. These plans provide not only for the driveway, but for the bridges and viaducts, parks, public comfort stations and other necessities, and if carried out will, Mr. Cantor says, be a source of gratification to all visitors and residents.

The report prepared by Mayor Low for the Sinking Fund Commissioners, in regard to the Staten Island ferry, recites admirable arrangements, which have been anticipated in these columns. It proposes municipal ownership of the whole service. The estimated cost of terminals and new boats is $3,250,000. The Mayor proposes, at the next meeting of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund to submit the technical resolution neecssary for action. The report says: "We propose that the city should not only own and improve all the terminals used for the Staten Island Ferry, but also that it should itself cause to be built, and own, the boats to be used in the service. Only so can the Borough of Richmond secure the treatment to which it is entitled as an integral part of the city. It is hardly necessary to point out, as additional inducement for the adoption of this policy, that every improvement in the ferry service to Staten Island means a large increase in the assessed value of the real estate of that borough; and it also means the bringing into the market for business purposes, under more favorable conditions, some of the best water-front within the limits of the City of New York."

New Labor League.

The New York Metal Trades' Association have resolved not to concede any of the demands of the machinists, and are acting in harmony with the Independent Labor League of America, which has a branch at 39 Cortlandt st and undertakes to supply competent men. The League does not countenance strikes, boycotts and the like, but hopes to attain the same advantages as the other labor unions through a committee of employees who will take up all such matters with the company against whom the men have a grievance. The membership includes both employers and employees. The League have furnished a number of men to the metal trade employers, who, notwithstanding the strike, are doing business. The Metal Trades' Association sent representatives to the organization meeting of the Building Trades Employers' Association, but having little in common with the builders they have not participated in the present lockout.

—The substitution of electricity for steam upon the elevated railways of New York has proved a great success, not only in the direction of economy, but in accelerating the speed, which on a railway of the kind in question is a matter of the greatest importance. The "Scientific American" asserts that the electrical horse-power employed amounts to 45,000, which is far above the average steam power in use formerly. The average speed is not only increased, but more cars can be hauled by 25 per cent. and the average number of passengers carried daily is 800,000. The greatest tractive effort exerted upon a train is now 20,000 pounds, where the motors are distributed throughout the train, each car being available for adhesion; but when locomotives were employed the utmost traction on the draw bar was only 7,000 pounds. The service has been so improved that the time between terminals has been reduced 25 per cent., so that with the same headway it is possible to run 25 per cent. more trains than with the steam service.

Material Market.

SANITARY FLOORING.

A flooring of just the right sort for a place where the feet of hundreds tread daily, something different from wood, so as not to shrink or crack, blister, peel or get shabby,—where can it be had, many ask. The desirability of such a material for a floor or covering is expressed in criticisms of slippery, splintery and uncleanly passages and halls where there ought to be instead a covering to soften the footfall and be at the same time fireproof, elastic to the tread and durable. Every one would like to see something of the kind in hospitals, asylums, schools, banks, and public meeting places where a carpet won't do. For a couple of months past there has been a stretch of new flooring at the foot of the staircase on the south side of the Manhattan entrance to the Brooklyn Bridge, where thousands of people pass over it daily, evidently put there as a sample. It is called "Crown Sanitary Flooring." The manufacturers say it is a cement, which is put up in barrels and bags accompanied by liquid. When mixed the production is similar to a combination of rich Portland cement and sharp sand in equal parts, yet not cold nor harsh in appearance. It makes a floor much like a rich linoleum, but it will wear longer than hardwood and not require half the attention. Robert A. Keasbey Co. are the manufacturers, at 100 North Moore st New York.

"While we prefer to lay our own floor composition," said Mr. Keasbey this week, "yet it is possible for a good practical mason to do as good work as we do after receiving instructions. The material after mixing is spread out the same as cement dressing, half an inch thick, then let it set for three or four hours until it begins to harden, when it can be smoothed with a trowel and finished neatly. Should you desire a slight gloss after the floor is thoroughly set, you can apply a thin coating of any good wax preparation and polish, but it is not at all necessary to use a wax finish."

The Keasbey Co. also make a "Pompelan" flooring similar to terrazzo. It has a rich appearance; the joints between the small pieces of marble are so fine that the general appearance is like one solid piece of marble. This can be laid over an ordinary wooden floor and will resist water without an underfilling of concrete. This company also lays mosaic tile floors over ordinary wood with a guarantee not to shrink or warp, and wear as long as if on concrete.

MASONS' MATERIALS.

It is scarcely probable that the present state of opinion among dealers in bricks and masons' materials generally is favorable to another lockout, and rumors that the yards will close again are not credited. The Dealers have an agreement with the Building Trades' Mechanics that prevents any proceeding of the sort at this time.

During the first part of the week bricks as well as masons' materials generally are being sold, delivered and used in Manhattan, as well as in other boroughs, notwithstanding the attitude of the Building Trades Employers' Association; but the aggregate volume of business is small compared to the normal record. Prices are nominal.

NUTWOOD.

An association has been formed in the South to interest people in growing nut trees for timber, and a little magazine named "The Nut Grower," is the voice of the organization. The movement is predicated of course on the gradual destruction of American forests, the penalty of which is being paid in high prices, in a diminished fertility of the soil, and in many disagreeable departures from nature's original plan. The second annual convention of the society will meet in October at New Orleans. It is said that the time is not far distant when the country will be obliged to grow its timber as systematically as we now produce staple farm crops, so that in the case of nut-bearing trees the fruit will become a desirable by-product. The kind of trees recommended are walnut, chestnut, hickory and pecans.

MARBLE.

Work has been commenced in earnest by the Ryalstone Marble Co. in the Norton farm quarries, about a mile and a half out of Gouverneur, N. Y. This company was recently organized by Pittsburg and New York capitalists, and promises to equal in output and beauty, although of a distinctly opposite type—the costly granite of the White Crystal plant of the same locality, whose single contract, now nearly supplied, amounts to considerably more than $200,000. The latter quarry produces a sparkling white stone, to be obtained if necessary in enormous seamless blocks, while the excavations on the Norton property disclose in every desired quantity a dark, mottled, Scotch marble which finishes with a glossy polish. About twenty men and several teams are employed in clearing the site for a mill to be erected without delay, and the construction of the grade for a branch track will soon be under way.

It is expected that the new cement works at Hudson, N. Y., will be in operation by July 15. A test run of the machinery was made a few days ago. The increased supply of cement which many new mills about to come into action will produce will certainly be felt in the market ere long.

CEMENT.

The effect of long-continued strikes here and elsewhere has tended to make the supply of cement abundant and prices on the whole easier, though the best-known brands have had little to complain of.

The manufacture of cement from the blast-furnace clinder has attained enormous proportions in Germany, the annual output being nearly 2,000,000 barrels; it is called "Iron-Portland" to distinguish it from the true cement in general use, for it possesses some qualities that render it unfit for all classes of work. It sets very slowly for one, but is free from great changes of volume for another. The best results are not reached for several months. In this connection the origin of the term "Portland" to cements of this type is interesting. Herr Jantzen says in "Stahl und Eisen," that it was first applied to Aspdin's cement made in 1829, because of its close resemblance to Portland stone, but this is not generally accepted.

Boating Interests Suffer.

Merchants all along the Hudson who receive and ship wares by water are in receipt of communications from boat-owners in this harbor that there are any number of boats lying idle in the North and East rivers, and that if they have any difficulty in obtaining accommodation in local waters to apply at the New York office and vessels will be at local docks in a hurry. The numerous and prolonged strikes in the building and other trades have depressed business so generally in the metropolis that contractors and others who deal in commodities that are shipped from other points have cancelled many orders for materials, or at least have postponed the sending until all differences have been settled. They say: "We shall take no chances." The dullness in all these circles is most naturally reflected in the business of the boatmen.

Of Interest to the Building Trades.

Has any one yet pointed out that "safe middle course?"

Friend Sam should beware of the seat of the scornful, as it contains a long sharp pin.

The bricklayers are taking that second sober thought. Long has it been said that they never strike.

In Chicago labor conditions have been serene for all concerned ever since the walking delegate was dethroned.

Richmond Borough is to have a new jail at a cost of $85,000, which has been appropriated by the Board of Aldermen.

The re-election of Samuel Parks defies public opinion, always a dangerous thing to do. The district attorney's turn will come again.

The designs and location of the comfort station for Burling Slip has been approved by the Art Commission. Also, the designs for the comfort station in Chatham Square.

The great Pennsylvania tunnel has been started at last. And soon we shall have another big bridge underway. If Labor will only permit it, the year 1903 may be a wonder yet.

Architects feel the depression. As inertia settles down. draughtsmen are driven out. From one shop no less than twenty-three have been laid off; altogether hundreds must be idle.

The gold medal awarded to Charles F. McKim, of New York, by the Royal Society of Architects, was on Monday night in London personally presented to him by the Society at a dinner given in his honor.

Wells Bros. & Co., of this city, were among the five firms of builders invited by Shepley, Rutan & Coolidge of Boston to compete for the contract to erect five buildings for the Howard Medical School at Cambridge. The estimated cost of these edifices is $2,500,000.

Three all-the-year-round public baths and six public comfort stations are now in process of construction in the Borough of Brooklyn, some of which will be completed and ready for occupany in the month of July, 1903, and the remainder within a short period of time thereafter.

George W. Vanderbilt must remove the new portico extending over the street line at his recently remodeled house, 640 5th av, according to a decision by Justice Blanchard in the Supreme Court. President Cantor is thus fully sustained in his interpretation of the law, and no one will question his impartiality.

The Municipal Art Commission's disapproval of the site officially selected for the Bronx Court House will postpone the building at least another year, as the Legislature must authorize a change in location. Officially the commission has objected only to the plans, but it is the site that most offends, this being too near the elevated road. Surely there must be suitable places in the borough where the roar of the rails entereth not. However, as to the design of the exterior, the Committee finds it commonplace and inferior in its proportions. The central oblong tower is especially objectionable. "As to the design of the interior, the drawings indicate 'renaissance' details of a conventional type, which, however, show in certain parts glaring departures from proportions and relations of parts which have become fixed within narrow limits by the study of the masters since the time of the Greeks. On the whole, the designs seem to your Committee to be unworthy, in consideration of the large amount of money to be expended on the building and the monumental character which should be displayed in a court house for the Borough of The Bronx."

The tract which the local board of Jamaica has selected for a park is at least sightly; and why not parks by the sea? Three miles of water front, half on Jamaica Bay, the rest breasting the ocean, at Rockaway, would be fine, if one says nothing about the expense. The proposition is now up to Commissioner Young.

William O'Gorman, a prominent and successful builder of the Bronx, died on Wednesday at his country home at Monroe, Orange Co., N. Y. Mr. O'Gorman built hundreds of small houses on Willis av, 138th, 139th and 140th sts. The funeral takes place this morning at 10.30 o'clock at St. Jerome's Church, Alexander av and 138th st.

Said an unenthusiastic taxpayer of this little isle to the Record and Guide: "All these 'ere street improvements, breathin' places and things are fine. It's wonderful what beautiful ideas some people have. I'd like to vote aye on every one. There's only one thing the matter with them, and that's what they cost." So 'twas said ever.

Mayor Low, on Thursday, named William L. Bull, William N. Cohen, Charles A. Peabody, Henry D. Purroy and Edward W. Sheldon as the members of the Court House Commission, under Chapter 336 of the laws of 1903. This commission is to determine a site and general plans for a new County Court House to take the place of the Tweed structure now in City Hall Park and back of the City Hall.

Conroy Brothers, plain and ornamental plasterers, with office and plant at Madison av, corner of 137th st, make a specialty in their line of large apartment houses. Their present contracts include the "St. Paul," Columbus av and 60th st, for L. & J. Brandt; an apartment house in Lexington av, corner 49th st, for Gundlach & Koch; apartment house on Morningside av, near 116th st, for George Doctor; and they are finishing up the Braender, Central Park West and 102d st, for Philip Braender, the builder.

To better accommodate their growing business, the Thos. Krekeler Co., house wreckers and dealers in second-hand building materials, have added a saw mill of large capacity, where timbers and joists can be cut to suit the trade. The company's yards cover two city blocks, each 400x200. Their recent work included tearing down the massive Convent of the Sisters of the Visitation, on Clinton av, Willoughby st and Waverly place, to make way for palatial houses for Standard oil magnates; the old depot of the Myrtle av line, covering the block on Broadway, Myrtle av and Stockton st, where valuable yellow pine timber and great quantities of brick were secured; the Lozier Building, at Bond and Fulton sts, to provide for extension; seven brick houses on Hudson av and John st, for Brooklyn Union Gas Co., and contracts for clearing three blocks to be used as Carnegie Library sites, and known respectively as the Williamsburgh, Pacific and Carroll Park sites. The office address of the Thos. Krekeler Co. is 2280 Fulton st, near the Loop, Brooklyn, and telephone call 269 East New York.

A fourfold injury is wrought by the strikes. The loss to the mechanics themselves through the deprivation of wages carries sadness and sacrifice to the home, and to the tradesman means diminished sales and non-payment of bills. The loss to the builder is not merely the stoppage of income, but also the necessarily continued outgo. One cannot shut out his expenses as abruptly and effectually as he can cut off his revenue. Foremen, watchmen and office assistants must be kept on and paid; the lender is unforgiving and the landlord never lets up. An important loss to many builders is the checking of alteration work, and the disappearance of contracts that were once possible. In the third place, injury is inflicted upon the manufacturers and dealers in materials. The ramifications under this head are infinite; even the boatmen feel it; their towboats and barges have little to do. Finally, we must consider the harm that is being done to real estate owners, through the lengthening of the period of interest costs without compensating rentals. Justice cries aloud for a swift ending to such serious losses and hardships.

In these days of towering structures and rapid construction the wise builder and architect make it a point to place contracts for the several parts of the work with firms who are known to have ability and facilities equal to the occasion. Hence, it is that the Architectural Metal Works, of 1192 and 1194 2d av, I. Moritz, proprietor, has recently completed or under way contracts for such mammoth structures as the Rapid Transit power houses at 2d and 3d sts and Gowanus Canal, Brooklyn, and 38th and 39th sts and 1st av, Manhattan; the Home for the Friendless, at 162d st and Woody Crest av, W. B. Tuthill, architect; mercantile building, northwest corner 5th av and 14th st, Robert Maynicke, architect; fireproof dwelling, No. 9 East 90th st; apartment hotels, nowthwest corner Park av and 58th st, Lenox Realty Co, owners, R. S. Townsend, architect; and easterly block front on Broadway, between 85th and 86th sts, for Seaboard Realty Co., H. B. Muilliken, architect; and American basement dwelling, No. 38 East 51st st, for Chas. Brendon & Co. ## Value of the Houses of Paris.

The official "Livre foncier de Paris," which was issued last week, supplies a large amount of statistical information about the value of the houses of Paris. In 1901 there existed in the city 80,319 properties, consisting of houses or manufactories which occupied an area of 39,983,357 square metres. The capital value was 13,813,113,490 francs, and the rental value 878,678,271 francs. Recently account has been taken of unoccupied land within the boundaries of the city, which is found to have an area of 2,592,-972 square metres, the valuation of which is 210,064,850 francs. The buildings have been classified in twenty-one groups, according to their value. It will be sufficient to say that 30,025 do not exceed 49,999 francs in capital value, that 304 vary from 2,000,-000 to 4,999,999 francs, and that only fifty-seven properties exceed five million francs. On the other hand, there are 10,430 properties, of which the capital value is less than 10,000 francs. It is also found that 28,450 buildings have five or more stories, 18,240 have four stories, 17,502 have three stories. If tested by valuation, the Eighth Arrondissement is the most important in Paris. It extends from the Madeleine to the Arc de Triomphe, and from the Parc Monceaux to the Seine. Within that district are 3,158 properties of the value of 1,845,907,000 francs. The poorest is the Twentieth Arrondissement, which extends from Pere la Chaise eastwards. It contains 6,175 properties of the value of 245,248,650 francs. The rural quarter of Saint Fargean is comprised in it, where the average value of the houses is only 31,408 francs; while in the Chaussee d'Antin quarter the average is 660,635 francs. The municipal tax is 10 per cent. on the capital value.

Mottoes for the Fronts of Houses.

The text is true, I trow, in every word.
He builds in vain who builds not in the Lord!

Though it a thousand years should stay,
This house at last must pass away.
And ere its shortest life be o'er
We shall have gone long, long before!

If thou hast evil in thy heart,
Come not in, but straight depart.

In this house all that is good
Is welcome, be it understood.
Good for both, though—be it known,
Not for the good of one alone;
Good for thee.

In Japan.

The Bridgeport Wood Finishing Co., of New Milford, Ct., New York, Philadelphia and Chicago, is exhibiting its Wheeler Patent Wood Filler, stains, and other specialties at the Osaka Exposition, Osaka, Japan, and has just received word from its representative there that the Emperor of Japan was his guest at the exhibit on the day of the opening ceremonies.

Preparing for Western Buyers.

The chairman of the Central Passenger Association has telegraphed to the Merchants' Association of New York that the lines composing his organization have agreed to grant reduced rates from their territory to New York for the fall buying season, as also to concur in such rates as may be made by western and southwestern connections.

The application of the association, on which there has been a favorable vote, was for the usual round-trip rate of one and one-third, tickets to be on sale on August 1-5, inclusive, and August 22-26, inclusive, with a thirty-day return limit.

The territory of the Central Passenger Association covers the Central Western States, extending from points west of, but not including Buffalo, Erie, Pittsburg, Wheeling and Huntington, W. Va., to the Mississippi River, south to the Ohio River, including the cities of Chicago, Louisville and St. Louis.

Immediately on receipt of the above mentioned advice, the Merchants' Association wired the Acting Joint Agent of the Southwestern Passenger Bureau, at St. Louis, requesting that he take a telegraphic vote of the general passenger agents of the various lines on the proposition for similar special rates to this city to be operative on August 1-5, inclusive, and August 22-26, inclusive, with a thirty-day return limit.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus implicdly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each convevance, thus, 2:482, denote that the property is in section 2 block 482.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers, the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage is drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

June 19, 20, 22, 23, 24 and 25.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.
